NPWH
NURSE PRACTITIONERS IN WOMEN'S HEALTH

NPWH STUDENT AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

2023

26TH ANNUAL NPWH WOMEN'S HEALTHCARE CONFERENCE SAN DIEGO, CA

26TH ANNUAL NPWH WOMEN'S HEALTHCARE CONFERENCE SAN DIEGO, CA

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The National Association of Nurse Practitioners in Women's Health (NPWH) Student Ambassador Program was created to build a national community of women's health nurse practitioner students and to provide those students the opportunity to connect with and learn from expert women's health nurse practitioners and advanced practice providers at our annual national conference.

Student ambassadors must be enrolled in an accredited women's health nurse practitioner/ women's health gender related nurse practitioner program in the U.S. By serving as a NPWH Student Ambassador, you will have the extraordinary opportunity to facilitate personal and professional growth through a mentorship relationship that will exchange educational, scholarship and professional knowledge and experiences.

The mentorship experience should be uplifting, engaging and rewarding for both the mentor and the mentee. The mentor-mentee relationship is a unique opportunity for self-discovery and to foster professional development.

AMBASSADOR GUIDELINES

To provide a meaningful experience for both our participating mentors and mentees, please ensure that you are able to comply with the following program requirements in order to apply to become a student ambassador.

Program coordinators, Jessica Wells and Danielle Grimm will select and facilitate the mentor / mentee matching process based on interest, geographic proximity and adherence to program participation requirements.

To participate as an ambassador, you will be required to complete an application and attach a copy of your resume and a reference letter at the link provided https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/NPWHStudentAmbassador2023

PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

To participate as an Ambassador you must:

- Be able to meet with your mentor at least three times during the NPWH Student Ambassador Program (November through December 2023). Once the NPWH Student Ambassador Program concludes on December 31, 2023, the mentor and mentee may opt to continue the mentor / mentee relationship on their own should both parties wish to do so.
- Be willing to meet via phone, in-person or via video platform. To facilitate ease in meetings, program coordinators will work to match mentors / mentees based on geographic proximity as well as interests.
- Attend the annual the 26th Annual NPWH Women's Healthcare Conference, October 30-Nov 1, 2023 in San Diego, California. You will be granted complimentary conference registration.
- Be able to purchase airfare and sleeping accommodations (hotel) to attend the meeting. NPWH will award an $800 grant per student to go toward these expenses.
- During your time at the NPWH Conference you will have the opportunity to connect with and learn from expert nurse practitioners in health; gain knowledge of current clinical trends, evidence-based research and national guidelines to provide care to women of all ages; and network with members of the NPWH Board of Directors and conference attendees.
- You will be invited to the VIP Reception at the annual conference and attendance is encouraged. It's a great networking opportunity to connect with WHNPs and those in the women's healthcare field.
- Attend an initial conference call, the entire conference, complimentary symposia, an orientation session, and a debrief session; Volunteer your time and be present for all conference sessions you are assigned to; serve as a session assistant/runner; welcome and assist conference attendees; and visit the exhibitors to learn more about their products.
- Post highlights of the conference to social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter and participate in a group photo.
- Sign an Ambassador Guidelines acknowledgement form.
- Be willing to fulfill the program monitoring requirements outlined below.

PROGRAM MONITORING REQUIREMENTS

- Program coordinators will conduct periodic check-ins with the mentor and the mentee throughout the program.

- After the program has concluded, a program exit interview survey will be given to help the Program Coordinators understand the impact of the program, and identify positive feedback and opportunities for improvement.
