1 MR. PFEIFFER: I'd like to call Mr. Edward Lim.

2 THE COURT: Raise your right hand, please.

3 EDWARD BOYNTON LIM, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

4 THE COURT: Have a seat, please.

5 DIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. PFEIFFER:

7 Q. Are you familiar with the substance of this complaint?

8 In fact, you filed it, correct? Wasn't that in 2001?

9 MR. NADLER: Objection, Your Honor; compound.

10 THE COURT: Sustained.

11 MR. PFEIFFER: I'll divide all that up.

12 BY MR. PFEIFFER:

13 Q. Do you know who filed this complaint?

14 A. I believe Mr. Qin, or Mr. Chin, as I was told that was 15 his name, filed it for me.

16 Q. When was that?

17 A. That was back in 2000, when Mrs. Xiao, who was his landlady

18 at the time, told me that he never had paid her all the --

19 MR. NADLER: Objection, Your Honor; hearsay.

20 THE COURT: Sustained.

The actual words of the OATH, "Do you solemnly swear . . . I do," are not transcribed, but are SUBSUMED within this centered line.

When a witness prefers to affirm rather than swear, change SWORN to AFFIRMED.

Testimony may be interrupted, as when taking another witness out of order. In that case, the witness may be RESUMED.

A witness may also be RECALLED for further testimony later in the trial, as in a rebuttal presentation.

21 BY MR. PFEIFFER:

22 Q. Do you know when Mr. Qin or Chin filed this complaint?

23 A. Sometime in -- sometime in about -- I guess it was in --

24 THE COURT: Don't guess, Mr. Lim. If you don't --

25 THE WITNESS: I don't know.
