December 2014 issue of Hispania

The Editors of Hispania invite you to read the December issue (97.4), which is available in print and online by clicking here.

The issue boasts a Guest Editorial and State-of-the-State Feature penned by Mark P. Del Mastro about Carmen Laforet's legacy. In the Literature and Culture section, you will find six articles focused on a diverse series of topics, including queerification in Rita Indiana Hernández's work, the dependency theory in works by Roberto Schwartz, and cinematic transformation of La Regenta. The articles in the Linguistics, Language Science, and Pedagogy section include well-researched studies by Andrew Farley et al., Errapel Mejías-Bikandi, and Jesse Gleason. The book/media review section consists of a variety of reviews of novels, textbooks, and critical studies, among others.

Visionary Essays: The Future of Spanish and Portuguese

The Editors of Hispania have announced a call for abstracts for Hispania's special centenary issue in celebration of the founding of the AATSP in 1917. Click here to view the submission guidelines.

AAUSC Survey

The American Association of University Supervisors and Coordinators (AAUSC) would like to ask for your help in understanding the existing articulation between high school AP World Language courses and exams and college-level foreign language curricula. Knowing your time is both precious and limited, we have created a brief survey (approximately 10-12 minutes) to investigate this topic. Please reply for the language you teach and/or for which you have a supervisory role as a coordinator, director and chairperson, etc.

Click here to participate and please complete the survey by Monday, December 22, 2014.
