Economic stimulus

CARES Act

- Business tax relief
- Small business assistance
- Treasury Exchange Stabilization Fund
- Funding for infrastructure client sectors
Business tax relief

- Deferral of payment of the employer portion of the Social Security tax, with half due by December 31, 2021 and the other half due by December 31, 2022
- Allows net operating losses arising in 2018, 2019 and 2020 to be carried back for five years
- Modifies the loss limitation applicable to passthroughs and sole proprietors so they can utilize excess business losses and access cash flow

- Increases business interest deductibility from 30 to 50 percent for 2019 and 2020
- Provides a refundable payroll tax credit for employers whose operations are partially or fully suspended by a COVID-19 shutdown order or whose gross receipts declined by more than 50 percent compared to the same quarter in the prior year
- Provides a technical fix for the qualified leasehold improvement provision in the TCJA
Small Business Assistance

The law creates the Paycheck Protection Program to assist qualifying small businesses, nonprofits, and individuals through the Small Business Administration’s 7(a) loan program. $349 billion is authorized for 7(a) lending from Feb. 15 through June 30, 2020 and SBA would fully guarantee the loans. Eligible recipients:

- Any business, 501(c)3 nonprofit, veterans group, or tribal business with fewer than 500 employees, or a number set by the SBA for the relevant industry, whichever is greater.
- Sole proprietors, independent contractors, and eligible self-employed workers would be eligible.
Small Business Assistance

- Eligible recipients could receive loans up to $10 million or 250% of their average monthly payroll costs, with interest rates capped during the covered period at 4%.
- Loans can be used to cover eligible payroll costs -- salaries, commissions, regular paid leave, health-care benefits, mortgage interest and utility payments.
- Firms would be required to make a “good faith certification” that funds will be used to retain workers, maintain payroll, and pay for rent and similar expenses.
- Ineligible expenses include employee/owner compensation over $100,000, or to pay for emergency sick or family leave under the second coronavirus response package.
Recipients of SBA-guaranteed loans under the Paycheck Protection Program can apply for loan forgiveness over eight weeks for eligible payroll costs and for mortgage interest, rent, and utility payments -- SBA would pay lenders for any canceled debt plus accrued interest.

Loan forgiveness would be reduced for businesses that fire employees or cut their pay.

Canceled debt would be excluded from borrowers’ gross income for tax purposes.

The law also authorizes SBA to pay the principal, interest, and associated fees for loans under the 7(a), 504 and microloan programs for six months.
