Senior Notes

Bruce S. Lane, Nixon Peabody LLP, Washington, D.C.

Kudos to both Bill Dunn and Dick Goldberg on becoming the most recent recipients of ACREL's Fred Lane Award. It was a great pleasure in past years to work with both Bill and Dick in building ACREL and their contributions to the College have been enormous. They both richly deserve this Award!

And thanks to Morty Fisher for undertaking to organize and manage this new Senior Counsel column so that we old timers can keep in touch.

I have been fully retired from law practice since 2000, but have kept in touch with the profession through part time arbitration and mediation as a neutral. Over the years I have had a number of interesting and challenging cases, mostly involving significant commercial disputes, and often involving real estate matters.

But my primary focus has been on family (six grandchildren), one of whom has just become a Rhodes Scholar after graduating from Harvard with High Honors, and on travel, generally cruises at this stage in life. I recently had to give up tennis, which was a sad day. My interest in fine wine has continued, and I still teach several courses and seminars on that subject, as well as attending the events of several wine societies.

My wife, Ann, and I maintain a winter home in Naples, Florida, which keeps us largely free of ice and snow, and we welcome visitors at any time.

Regards to all.
