Paul Davidoff Award Information, program page 29

The photo of Elizabeth Derickson (at right) is missing from the group of awardees.

The Paul Davidoff Award, established by ACSP in 1985 and presented biennially, honors an outstanding book publication that reflects the commitments and values of activist academic Paul Davidoff.

2013 Winner:

Douglas S. Massey, Len Albright, Rebecca Casciano, Elizabeth Derickson, and David N. Kinsey, Climbing Mount Laurel: The Struggle for Affordable Housing and Social Mobility in an American Suburb (Princeton University Press, 2013).

Climbing Mount Laurel is a sophisticated mixed-method analysis that documents the success of Ethel Lawrence Homes, a low income housing development located in an upscale New Jersey suburb. Constructed as a result of the landmark Mount Laurel legal cases, the book masterfully demonstrates that this housing has worked well for both its residents and for their neighbors.

2013 Honorable Mention

Gerardo Sandoval, Immigrants and the Revitalization of Los Angeles: Development and Change in MacArthur Park (Cambria Press, 2010).

This book provides a compelling account of how local and city leaders in Los Angeles handled development in a low-income immigrant neighborhood, demonstrating that the addition of a new transit station need not result in the gentrification of the surrounding community and the displacement of impoverished immigrant residents. In documenting the politics of participation, this account provides an important example of successful community-based planning practice.
