

New Teaching Credentials Issued by Higher Education Sector

A multiple subject credential authorizes teaching all subjects in a self-contained K-12 classroom, usually at the elementary level.

A single subject credential authorizes teaching a specific subject, typically at the middle or secondary level.

An educational specialist credential authorizes teaching in seven areas of specialization: mild/moderate disabilities, moderate/ severe disabilities, deaf and hard of hearing, visual impairments, physical and health impairments, early childhood special education, and language and academic development.

- 44% of new teacher credentials were awarded at Independent California Colleges and Universities (ICCU) in 2017-18.
- A variety of teacher preparation pathways are available for students in California.
- ICCU institutions are leaders in preparing today's students for tomorrow's teachers.

TEACHER SUPPLY

Teacher preparation enrollment data is collected as part of the federal mandate (Title II) by which the Teacher Preparation Programs are required to report enrollment data for September 1 to August 31 of each school year. However, the number of teaching credentials issued is reported for July 1 to June 30 of each fiscal year, a distinctly different timeframe from the Title II reporting.

Although there is a relationship between enrollment and the number of teaching credentials issued by sector, not all teacher candidates enrolled in teacher preparation programs will earn a teaching credential in the same year. Teacher preparation programs may be one to three years in length. Additionally, if a candidate enrolls part-time and may take several years to earn their credential.

ICCU institutions have the capacity to enroll more teacher candidates and are committed to preparing California's teacher workforce.
