PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

This time of year I spend most of my time tracking down the officers of all our student chapters. I currently have most of them but I still need a few more. One of the goals is to contact all our chapter presidents and offer them a one-year subscription of our quarterly magazine “The Professional Geologists”. We have already scheduled a visit to DeKalb County landfill in November. I will announce all the details early next month.

On September 25, 2019, I drove to Georgia Southern University for our newest student chapter’s first meeting. Justin Johnson with Terracon Consultants is our AIPG sponsor for the chapter. We both spoke to the students and presented to them an AIPG banner and some gifts for the officers. Ms. Jessica Ware is the chapter president and she was the one that contacted me about starting a chapter in their department. AIPG National gave them $100.00 and our section gave them $300.00. We encourage them to use the money for field trips and to attend GSA Southeastern Conference.

Later this month I’m going to talk to two classes of 5th graders about minerals and rocks. I’ll also show them the different areas of employment for geologists.

Next Spring we have GSA Southeastern/Northeastern Conference in Reston, VA. Mike Lawless and I are co-chairs on a technical session titled “Geoscience Careers for New Geoscience Graduates”. This will be my fifth time that I have co-chaired this session. The students get a great deal of information from these talks. We are looking for speakers and in the past most of our speakers have been AIPG members.
