

Kentucky Section - American Institute of Professional Geologists (KY-AIPG) REGISTRATION FORM - 2025 Bahamas Short Course

“Modern Carbonate Analogs for the Geologic Record”

WHEN: Saturday, March 15th, 2025 to Saturday, March 22st, 2025

DESCRIPTION: This course will be a series of daily field trips with evening discussion sessions; Course outline will be provided. Spouses (and their children) are not obligated to attend field trips or evening discussions. Course will be taught by Dr. Frank Ettensohn, Professor, University of Kentucky; Course location is the Gerace Research Center (field station), San Salvador Island, BAHAMAS.

Attendees will receive a certificate for forty (40) Professional Development Hours, which will be mailed to attendees via email after the short course is completed.

Name: _____

Telephone: () _____ Email: _____

REGISTRATION TYPE

Professional

☐

Registration Fee

$650

Total

Student

☐

$550

Spouse

☐

$550

Child (number and ages)

☐

$ (x number) *need to contact Dr. Ettensohn for child fees
f.ettensohn@uky.edu
(859) 257-1401

REGISTRATION DEPOSIT:

- A $200.00 deposit must be received prior to Jan. 15, 2025
- Make check payable to “Kentucky Section-AIPG”
- Balance due must be received by February 15, 2025

MAIL REGISTRATION DEPOSIT AND THIS REGISTRATION FORM TO:

Kentucky Section - AIPG: Bahamas Short Course
KY AIPG
P.O. Box 22521
Lexington, KY 40522

REFUNDS AND CANCELLATIONS:

Deposits are fully refundable if the course is cancelled due to lack of sufficient enrollment (10 participants). Other cancellations requests/refunds must be directed to Dr. Frank Ettensohn.

NO REFUND FOR REGISTRANTS WHO HAVE FAILED TO COMPLETE THE FOLLOWING:

- Must have a valid passport

Airfare and Flight Reservations to and from San Salvador are at your own expense and responsibility
A test for COVID and proof of vaccination is no longer required and not necessary.