

IN DEFENSE OF PHI BETA KAPPA: HOW A HISTORY DEGREE CAN CHANGE YOUR LIFE

Monica Raber Miyashita, Hiram History Grad '94

THURS. MARCH 6, 10:40 AM

Pritchard Room, 2nd Fl. Library, Hiram College

Studying history prepared me to teach history, but it also helped enormously with all the research and writing skills fundamental to the practice of law. History also helps you understand something about human nature. I have found that knowledge to be helpful in understanding what makes people do the things they do, which has helped to make me effective as a litigator and especially effective in conducting cross examinations.

I have practiced law for 15 years both in a law firm and as a law partner with another woman attorney. My primary areas of practice are family law related: child custody and visitation, wills and estates, adoption law, etc. I have also taught history part time at the University of Akron Wayne College for 15 years, right alongside my law practice

What can I do with a
Hiram History Degree?

Practice Law

Be a Researcher

Become a Teacher

Join the Medical Field

Work in Politics

Be a Historian

PLEASE RSVP!

By Mon. March 3, 2014

Email:

hwangm@hiram.edu

Tel:

330-569-5465