It's Back To School!

Half a century ago, the REMINISCOR was born in Sacred Heart Academy. Principal Mother M. Camillus began her duties as the Administrator, and at that time, the senior class numbered only sixteen. The REM chronicled the major events from that time and has been witness to the changes recorded for fifty years in the school that eventually became Shanley High School, the home of the Deacons. As school reopened for the 1987-88 year in August, 370 students filled the classrooms. In contrast to the class of '38, 110 seniors helped welcome the Freshmen and established the leadership for the coming months. That leadership and familiarity with Shanley's traditions helped introduce several new faces to the Shanley family. With the golden year in mind, and a half-century rich in tradition, the REMINISCOR adapted a rather avant garde theme, surprisingly. Styled in the popular Mtv format, the REM declares "Deacons want their Stv!" Consequently, the expression of Shanley's spirit is projected through a parody of music video. The REM staff presents what we hope will be a very special 50th anniversary edition.

Opposite page: Steve Hareland has it made: Minute Maid! Senior girls rally for Orientation, Janelle Edner, Amy Christopher, Jody Welk parade at Homecoming. Colleen Dunne leads the back to school dancers. Cody Larkin presents himself as the model freshman. Above: Kara Sauvageau and Julie Schreiner win approval for their pumpkin costumes. Lisa Krille, Tami Noesen, and Marc Morris ride the soph float. Cory Kelly and Cris DuBord participate in a psych. experiment that should have been trashed. LeeAnna Hiestand provides the wheels for Susan Fornes, Julie Price, Becky Lein. Mike Eaton no doubt is making use of READAK skills.

Seniors and Freshmen Jam at Orientation

The class of 1991 made its debut at Shanley on Friday, August 28, 1987. Freshmen were informed of school rules and regulations by Brother Gary. At the same time, freshmen and seniors alike anxiously awaited meeting their "siblings" in the Big Brother/Big Sister program. After nervous introductions, the new Deacons bought books and toured the halls of Shanley.

The annual Orientation picnic followed on Monday night. Seniors and freshmen played tug-of-war, ran relays, and learned more about each other aided by rolls of toilet paper. Ice cream treats followed at the Dairy Queen as new friendships strengthened.

Saturday evening closed Orientation week with a dance in the gymnasium. The tradition of Orientation once again brought together the young and the old to provide a sense of continuity and family at Shanley.

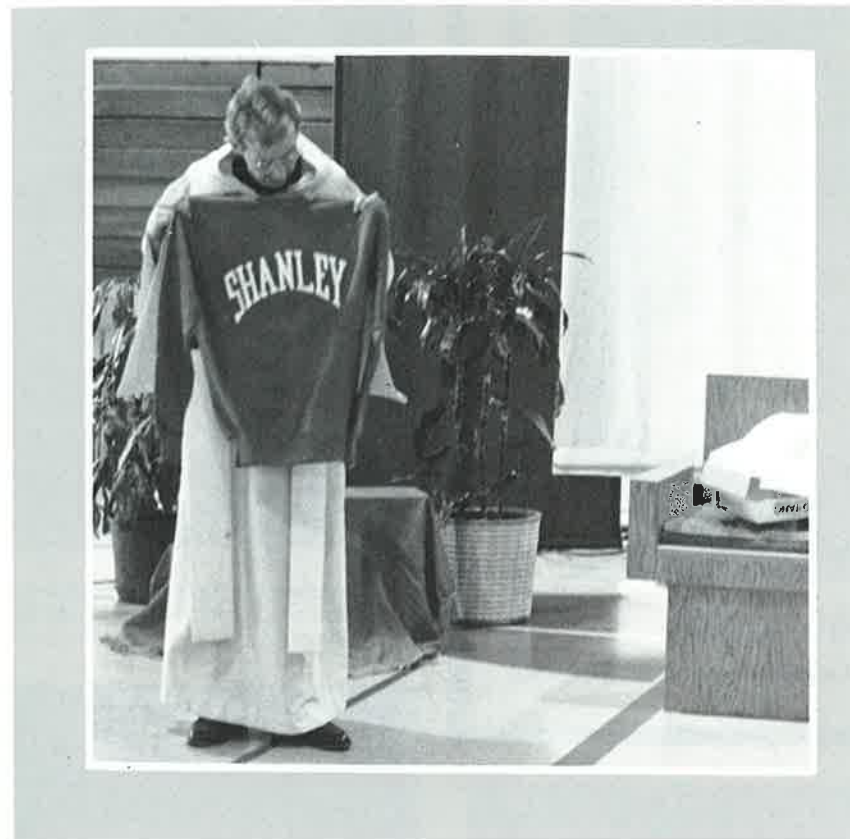

1 - You mean this isn't video dancing? 2 - Matt Rustad describes the merits of hotdogs to Tim Lester, Joshua Sillers, and Jeremy Knutilla. 3 - Dan Bryant, Kris Bjornson, Chad Moos, and Randy Vogel play hard to get. 4 - Anne Joyce watches Rich Nelson's nerves become unraveled. 5 - Jake Thurston knows that Kelly Lancaster was served a turkey hot dog.

Prayer Unites Shanley

The theme of the Homecoming Mass, "A Time to Remember," provided a positive beginning, as Father McCauley guided students to the Lord. The Thanksgiving Mass allowed students to exhibit their generosity as they brought food for the needy. The culmination of the liturgies was the All Catholic Schools Mass during Catholic Schools' Week in February. As students of diverse ages filled the gymnasium, a feeling of community was created. Students, along with the new Campus Minister Rosie Conati, took an active role in planning themes, songs, programs, and much more for masses and prayer services. The liturgies during the school year exemplified the beauty, spirit, and faith of the Shanley community. Junior Karla Meyer expressed that "Without the participation and spirit of Shanley as a whole, the liturgies in which we take part would not be as special."

King Matt Friederichs

HOMECOMING CREATES NEW MEMORIES

Coronation started the 1987 Homecoming week off. Rhett Neuman, Homecoming King of 1986, designated Matt Friederichs as the new king of 1987. Stacie Bossart, Homecoming Queen of 1986, passed the crown of honor on to a very surprised Kim Trainor. Tina Ayotte commented that the crowning of the king and queen was the best part of Homecoming week and that the 1987 coronation was the best ever. The remainder of the court beautifully dressed in Shanley red and white formal attire included Susan Russell, Anne Gibb, Michelle Kuppich, Tania Bohnet, Bill Morris, Tate Bosak, Tucker Sturdevant, and Dave Mathison.

Many fun events added to the enthusiasm of Homecoming week. A special all-school liturgy in the gym celebrated the Homecoming theme, "A Time To Remember." A slideshow of STV featured students participating in school activities ended the service and left people thinking about past experiences and looking forward to the ones ahead. A dating game and skits night was held in which couples revealed their secrets and other students and faculty displayed "talent." A pep fest featuring "Mona Letterman" was capped off with a shaving cream fight which involved the faculty. The Girl's Basketball games included an 83-43 victory over the Wops and an 80-35 victory over the Packers. The football festivities started as the caravan wound its way to NDSU's Dacotah Field. The Deacons dominated the Blue Jays 28-0. The week ended with the Homecoming dance. Students danced to the tunes of the Detectives.

Nervously awaiting the Coronation are candidates: Sue Russell, Michelle Kuppich, Kim Trainor, Anne Gibbe, and Tania Bohnet.

Seniors "retreat" to the Castaway Club

Pelican Lake provided the beautiful scenery for the senior class retreat at the end of September. Retreat leader Dean Eggerman handled all facets of the weekend, coordinating activities, trying to motivate students to participate, and leading the group toward an increased spirituality. With a theme centered on unity, the seniors attempted to "come together" at the start of the year in the hopes of strengthening a bond of friendship and acceptance among classmates. The Castaway once again proved to be a perfect place to host the annual retreat by enabling the students to separate themselves from the daily routine of school, football, basketball, jobs, and Fargo-Moorhead. Kim Kremer commented that "the water fight was the most fun. Anne Gibb encouraged next year's retreat leaders to try to bring in a retreat team to lead the small group discussions."

Clockwise from top: The class of '88 mugs for the traditional retreat photo. Teresa Nord reflects during a moment of silence. Corrina Lemar listens for the day's schedule of events. Mark Rustad takes advantage of the games room. Stacey Lavelle wonders if anyone would notice if she switched the salt and sugar containers.

Last fall the Shanley Drama Department presented audiences with an opportunity to discover themselves and each other. Presented in the auditorium were not one, but two different plays. Set in two different eras, "The Odd Couple" (female version) and "The Torchbearers" allowed two distinct pictures of America to come alive on stage. The time needed for two performances brings into view the commitment, dedication, and caring of the cast crew and directors. The activity provides a chance to express any or all of the things that make you who you are. Those willing to try deserve respect and congratulations. Senior Theresa Andreski recalls the benefits of her experience, "We've made a few people laugh, and at the same time I have done a lot for myself."

THE ODD COUPLE: Cris Dubord: Sylvie; Jennie Bjornson: Mickey; Pam Zaug: Renee; Kelli Schmitt: Vera; Theresa Andreski: Olive Madison; Shirley Kern: Florence Unger; Joshua Sillers: Manolo; Joe Longtin: Jesus. THE TORCHBEARERS: Joe Longtin: Frederick Ritter; Jennie Bjornson: Paula Ritter; Janelle Edner: Mrs. Pampinelli; Nicole Fenstad: Mrs. Nelly Fell; Corrina Lemar: Florence McCrickett; Paul Leintz: Mr. Spindler; Mike Eaton: Huxley Hossefrosse; Steve Sillers: Mr. Twiller; Jeff Dunn: Teddy Spearing; Becky Simons: Clara Sheppard; Anjie Dreiling: Jenny; Dave Arends: Stage Manager.

Clockwise from top: Nicole Fenstad reveals her acting secrets to Jennie Bjornson. The Torchbearers' Cast reflects the lifestyles of the 1920's. Joe Longtin considers a helping hand. Janelle Edner, Nicole Fenstad, Joe Longtin share their disgust with black costumes. Jennie Bjornson and Nicole Fenstad listen to Janelle Edner.

"Wild Thing" Theme for Sadie

Blame it on a crazy, boring bus trip with the Girls' Basketball team in the fall, but Mr. Kim Colwell came up with his version of "Wild Thing" that would make the original performers, the Troggs, take cover. The theme for Sadie allowed for a variety of costumes, decorations, and behaviors. Senior girls led by Katie Christofferson, Kim Kremer, Margaret Srsnsky, Tricia Lepine, and Julie Mullen hosted a wild assembly in the gym and presented their Sadie king choices with ripe pineapples straight from the tropics. Senior king candidates Kelly Lancaster, Cory Kelly, Curt Palmer, Tate Bosak led the dance line admirably. Sadie Week peaked with the traditional costume dance.

In red and black are: Robert Fick, Paulette Nyhof, Matt Mehl, Jessica Tillisch.

"Catholic Schools Week Shares the Spirit"

On the first of February, the Fargo - Moorhead Catholic schools celebrated the gift of private education by observing the start of National Catholic Schools Week. Each class enjoyed a break from the classroom for a half - day. The seniors and juniors braved the sub-zero weather at Edgewood by tubing, sledding and cross-country skiing. The sophs bowled at West Acres, while the frosh danced at Broadway Junktion. As part of the observance, several English and Religion classes wrote essays on one aspect of Catholic education. An open house with representatives from all Shanley activities speaking to interested parents and students was also held. The culmination of this special week was an All- Catholic Schools Liturgy held at Shanley.

Ty DeVine, Kim Trainor, Greg Mastrud, Kirk Haverkamp, Mike Eaton, and Anne Gibb explain the importance of athletics to the crowd of the open house. Parochial students use mime at the liturgy. Fr. Don Brockman celebrates the Eucharist. Jennie Bjornson promotes activities at Shanley.

Because We Care

On January 18, 1988, a drinking and driving workshop was sponsored by the Social Concerns class. This day was designated to be an awareness of the growing problem of driving under the influence of alcohol in our country, community, and school. Furthermore, "Because We Care" was held to discuss the problem and search for solutions.

The day began with an opening prayer. Next, Mr. Barke explained the consequences of drinking and driving, and shared his experience which has left him with many disabilities. Small group discussions were held throughout the day. During the lunch hours, display booths from local drinking and driving awareness groups were set up for students to observe. "Friday Night Live," a video, was also viewed by the students. Finally, a panel of local professionals answered questions the audience had. The day proved to be a positive experience, and students became more aware of the prevalence of the problem.

Lyons is Sno Princess

Junior Cassandra Lyons was crowned Sno Princess at an early morning assembly that marked the beginning of Sno Week in the second week of February. Last year's princess, Christine Neu-harth reigned over the ceremony as the new court was announced. Members of Cassandra's court were: Becky Lein, Tiffany Eagleson, Jackie Mari and LeeAnna Hiestand. Senior escorts Cory Kelly, Jamie Cossette, Curt Palmer, Greg Mastrud, and Kelly Lancaster provided some of the more entertaining moments of the program. The MORP dance was rescheduled in March due to inclement weather.

Clockwise from top: Cassandra Lyons stakes the throne guarded by Cory Kelly. Curt Palmer accompanies Jackie Mari onstage. The guys await the announcement from Cornbread. Joel Schaan plays cupid for Christine. Hacksaw plays the straight man for Becky.

Stuffa Ya Face With Pepperoni

For the tenth straight year, the Shanley community raised thousands of dollars through the pizza drive. More than many other fundraising efforts, this moneymaker truly brought all members of the Shanley family together, making, selling, or delivering sausage, cheese, and pepperoni pizzas. Parents, teachers, students, administrators, and friends of Shanley all got into the act. For a cold December weekend, the gymnasium was transformed into a steamy, cheesy pizzeria. Nicole Fenstad, a sophomore, was especially recognized for her efforts in selling over three hundred pizzas. For two weeks, the homerooms of Margaret Sheehan and Sheila Childs led the way in securing orders. The success of the drive, which raised over $27,000 for the school, was especially sweet for two groups. The Volleyball and Hockey teams raised the most money for their respective sports. The Shanley pizza sales prove year after year to be a memorable fundraiser that help the school and its activities. The activities received $13,500 from this year's pizza drive; the general school fund received the same amount.

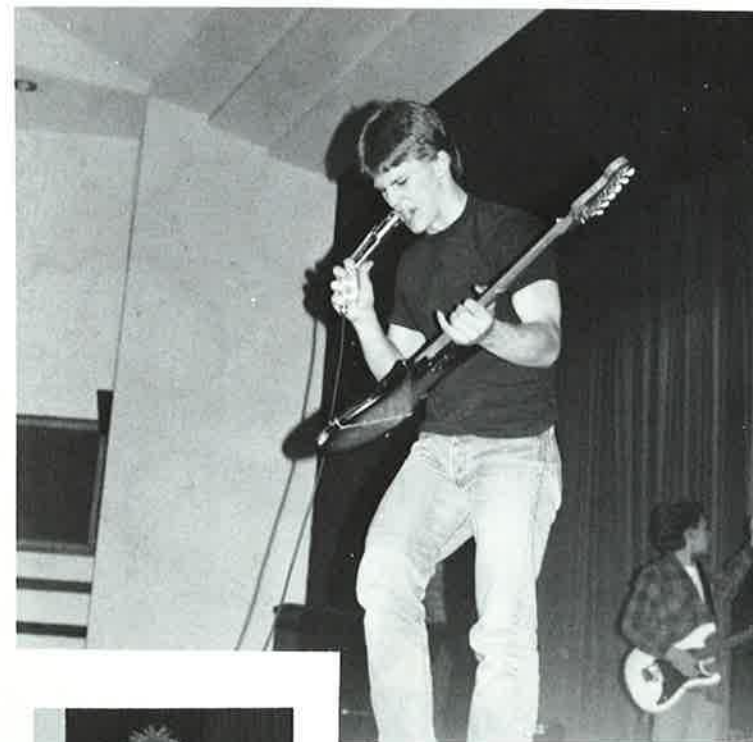

Pizza Drive is students' Top Fundraiser

Clockwise: Mr. Johnston risks a real boxing match; Joel Schaan and Rob Hanneman take a Coke break; Melissa Ratajczak agrees that "atsa lotta mozzarella." Jill Finch and Jenny Lindely lead the sophs in pizza assembly line action; Mr. Murie records the next thousand; Bill Fridgen learns the bag routine.

Shenanigans Talent Show Blasts Open Spring Week

The Shanley Shenanigans talent show was held on Sunday, May 1. Coincidentally, all of the acts were musical performances, including the Senior girls and Sophomore guys. Clockwise top right-Jay Delaney belts out a mean sax solo. Thong Nguyen provides the percussion. Todd Meyer masks his true feelings. Tom Baumgartner strums a wicked guitar. Todd Grugel a.k.a. "Kragness" leads the winning group, who was awarded a cash prize. Theresa Andreski, Jennie Bjornson, Sarah Anstett, and Cris DuBord exude confidence and serenity as they sing a rather irreverent version of a Latin hymn.

Olson Returns to the Stage and Directs MAME

Cast in order of appearance: Patrick Dennis: Joel Schaan, Jeff Dunn; Agnes Gooch: Shirley Kern, Sarah Anstett; Vera Charles: Theresa Andreski, Annie Paruccini; Mame Dennis: Jennie Bjornson; Ralph Devine: Mike Vacek; Bishop: Eric Johnson; M. Lindsay Woolsey: Dave Arends, Chris Noah; Ito: Mike Vosika, Joshua Sillers; Doorman: Jim Jamieson, Dave Sandy; Elevator Boy: Jeff Dunn, Joel Schaan; Messenger: Eric Johnson, Dave Jutz; Dwight Babcock: Rob Hanneman, Mike Eaton; Stage Manager: Dave Jutz; Madame Branslow: Katherine Berg, Nicole Fenstad; Gregor: Steve Manuel, Chris Noah; Beauregard: Matt Schaefer, Joe Longtin; Uncle Jeff: Cory Kelly, Steve Spellman; Cousin Fae: Colleen Dunne, Sally Cato; Cris DuBord, Colleen Barth; Mother Burnside: Janelle Edner, Lisa Wiese; Patrick Dennis at age 19-29: Joe Longtin, Erick Kava; Junior Babcock: Dave Sandy, Jim Jamieson; Mrs. Upson: Corrina Lemar, Cris DuBord; Mr. Upson: Mike Eaton, Steve Manuel; Gloria: Nicole Fenstad, Trish Mohrbacher; Pegeen Ryan: Heather Murphy; Peter Dennis: Tim Neuharth, Tim Meier. Members of the Company: Nicolle Holter, Michelle Lenhardt, Sarah Haverkamp, Vicki Cortese, Pam Zaug, Jenny Johnk, Greta Richardson, Sue Glanzer, Nancy Gallagher, Trish Houseman, Cassandra Lyons, Becky Simons, Anjie Dreiling. MAME was presented on March 24 - 27.

The cast, crew, and directors assemble. Cory Kelly commands the attention of two Colleens. Jennie and Matt lead the cast; Jeff, Josh, Shirley, and Jennie tangle with Christmas decorations.

Prom Becomes a Black and White Blitz

With a catered meal in a candle-light atmosphere, the junior class presented the seniors, faculty, and guests with the annual prom banquet. An elegant meal was served by the Lower Forty Eight, with junior class mothers helping out as waitresses. Guest speaker Tim Olson encouraged the seniors especially to remember with fondness the experiences each person lived through at Shanley, yet to be challenged by the future's demands. Sister Anne presented the Gladys Wold Award to Shirley Kern, while Brother Gary presented the James Wold Award to Jay Conzemius. Seniors adjourned to the Auditorium for the coveted senior personality awards. The annual junior-senior banquet and prom are provided for by the profits of the magazine drive that is a junior class project. This is one of the highlights of the school year, particularly for the seniors.

At top: Liz Samuel, Ali Kaltefleiter, Kara Paul sit at the Head Table; Jay Conzemius receives the Wold Award; Sister Anne congratulates Shirley Kern; Tim Olson offers the wisdom of his years to the juniors and seniors.

Clockwise: Julie Schreiner is so tan for Prom; Seniors celebrate the Ballroom Blitz; Dave Sandy, Theresa Andreski, Steve Venette look oh so lovely; Patti Ford checks out the ladies' room with Jessica Tillsch, Sue Stremick, Michelle Olmstead, Anne Lambert; Susan Fornes and Sandra Barker wait for the Grand March. For the second year, the Prom was held at the Radisson Grand Ballroom. Live music was provided by Easy Street.

Spring Week Rubs Out Winter Blues

Early in May, the Shanley Executive Board organized a variety of activities for the student body held in conjunction with "Spring Week." Among the contests were a tenacious series of Pictionary games where Lisa Krile, Rachel Jutz and Leah Krile convincingly defeated all opposition, but were nailed in the final round by the lucky faculty team. In the ping pong competition, junior Tim Sandy was the champion. Team volleyball and basketball contests were also crowd favorites. Spring Week was a huge success in chasing away the winter blues.

Clockwise: Tricia Lepine enjoys her spring week on the beach; Mike Eaton decides that Spring Week is no Mickey Mouse affair; Carrie Helgeson and Michelle Joyce pick out their donuts; the faculty rests after spending hours preparing the breakfast for the student body; (nice shirt, Bro. Mike!) Sirak Solomon raps at Shenanigans.

ORGANIZATIONS

Key Club Serves For Friendship's Sake

As president of Key Club, Sandra Barker helped adviser Margaret Sheehan direct the efforts of Shanley's Key Club under the national theme "For Friendship's Sake." According to president-elect Pam Zaug, "The most worthwhile project was the adopt-a-family program within each parish." Other favorite activities were the Rake-In, May Baskets, and a car wash.

Light Loft Crew Shines Brightly

Marching to the beat of a different drummer, the crew in the loft adds another dimension to play production. In the words of Mike Vacek, "We go up there and it's kind of fun." What the crew actually does is provide the lighting for plays, liturgies, assemblies, and other programs in the auditorium.

The members of the Executive Board worked with the General Assembly all year long on several exciting projects. The first responsibility facing these elected leaders was the Orientation Week schedule. The student leaders from the General Assembly helped organize the Big Brother/Big Sister assignments for seniors and freshmen. Next, Homecoming Week had to be arranged. Also, Shanley's annual Pizza Drive was the main concern for the early winter. Kelly McNulty, Commissioner of Student Activities, commented, "It was a very hectic time, but everyone pulled together and the pizza sale turned out a success." Next, Sno-Week was sponsored. Finally, the Spring Week festivities presented the last major assignment for the student council. Colleen Dunne proved to be the mastermind of the Shanley Olympics.

Students Lead Recruitment Efforts

The Ambassador program was started in 1986. It was designed to promote positive Shanley relations with more people. The Ambassadors mostly go to the Parochial school classrooms and visit all students in grades one through eight. They tell what it's like to attend Shanley, and what makes the school so special. There are sixteen ambassadors ranging from freshmen to seniors. Every year new ambassadors are chosen by the faculty. Theresa Andreski comments, "It is a positive experience because it reflects on what makes Shanley work."

CLOSE UP travels to D.C.

On March 19th, six Shanley students and Mr. Colwell left for a week of intense learning and touring activities in Washington, D.C. The group included seniors Anne Gibb and Kelly McNulty, and juniors Michelle Sauer, Liz Samuel, Karla Meyer, and Ali Kaltefleiter.

Students from southern California, Texas, and Connecticut participated in the CLOSE UP program during the same week as the North Dakota delegation. "The people were really fun," commented Liz Samuel. "I really learned a lot," added Michelle Sauer, "but making new friends was the best." As part of the experience, museums were visited.

Tours of the monuments were featured, seminars and workshops encouraged student input, and a day was spent on Capitol Hill to teach participants about our government "close up." "The CLOSE UP program is well-organized, educational, and one of the most worthwhile programs offered to high school students," stated Mr. Colwell.

Sandpebbles and Quintessence Rock the Town Musically

Shanley's select vocal groups, the Quintessence and Sandpebbles, continued their tradition of musical excellence throughout the year. Director Sheila Childs held auditions last spring and selected the nine members for each group. When member Jennie Lester was asked what qualities were necessary for being selected to the Quintessence, she replied, "Flexibility ... you have to be willing to work with changing schedules, new songs, and other people. The Sandpebbles included boys from grades nine through twelve, enabling them to adapt several types of music to their performance." Senior Joe Longtin especially liked the showmanship of the "Five-Foot Two, Eyes of Blue" selection at the Spring Concert.

Boys' Chorus Echoes a Youthful Note

Under the direction of Mrs. Sheila Childs, the Boys' Chorus included a large number of juniors and sophomores who were lead by a core of experienced seniors vocalists. The chorus members performed at many parochial schools in the Fargo-Moorhead area, especially during the second semester. All year long, the boys managed early morning donut and sweet roll sales to sweeten the travel budget. The annual Christmas concert proved to be the best performance of this group, the largest all-male high school chorus in the area.

Volume Builds in Girls' Chorus

The boys' and girls' choruses continued performing under the adept leadership of Mrs. Sheila Childs. In addition to learning songs, students were also instructed in rhythm and music fundamentals. Next year, Mrs. Childs and Mr. Schutz plan to offer a musical expressions class. Mrs. Childs hopes to combine fun with interest and give students pride in being part of the music program. "My goal is that when students leave Shanley they feel confident enough in their ability to sing and use their vocal skills so that they will continue on in college and church choirs, and simply sing for their own enjoyment." Mrs. Childs also felt that this goal would be accomplished by educating students about music, not just teaching songs. 1987 - 1988 was truly a growth-filled year for the music department. A highlight for the chorus was a star rating earned by soloist Jackie Mari at NDSU in the March contest. The duet performed by Janelle Edner and Nicole Fenstad also received a star.

Tiffany Eagleson, Trish Mohrbacher, and Heather Murphy add strength to the Soprano section.

Quintessence leads the Girls' Chorus at the Christmas Concert.

Trainers Treat the Black and Blue

Student trainers play a major role in athletics at Shanley. In both time and effort, the trainers make valuable contributions in serving athletes and the coaches. All trainers attended a week-long camp in the summer to prepare themselves for their jobs as trainers. Head Trainer, Don Brunjes, directs these students throughout the year. Colleen Dunne, who taped most of the volleyball players sometime during their season, believes, "The most important job is to be able to tape all types of injuries, but being there when the injury occurs is also important so you can learn how the injury actually happened." Liz Samuel assisted the Girls' basketball players. Adrian Fretland worked with the boys' basketball team, and Mike Rein helped out with the Hockey teams. Tina Ayotte states, "It is fun, get to know people I never knew before and it is all worth it."

First row- Tania Bohnet, Kathy Littlefield, adviser; Shirley Kern, Jenny Lindely, Carrie Helgeson, Becky Simons. Second row- Kelly Kolars, non-member Greta Richardson, Jenny Seminary, Kristi Dunn, Angie Jordahl, Michelle Sauer, Kathy Beare. ## It's A Junk Food Haven

Throughout the school year, a special group of students made certain that no teacher went without his favorite meal: peanut M&Ms; that no student missed out on hot popcorn after school; or that Mrs. Neuharth had a free moment. These students were the infamous Snack Bar crew, who worked lunch hours, after school, and of course at every home basketball game. The snack bar workers developed a sense of solidarity and protected their turf from invaders. To them, "Little Debbie" held significant meaning. While they may not have made their first million working here, the snack bar workers learned important lessons in responsibility.

Once the Stv theme was chosen at yearbook camp in August, the REM staffers went to work. Planning layouts, setting up photo sessions, designing the artwork, and organizing the 120 pages of the '88 publication was a full year of work. A strong core of Senior staffers provided the leadership that was necessary. As a result, the yearbook workers proudly present the fiftieth anniversary edition of the Reminiscor, because they too, want their Stv!

Shanley Band Tunes Up the Times

The Shanley Band, directed once again by Shooter (Mr. Jim Schutz), experienced yet another successful year. The band consisted of about thirty members, and according to senior Kelly McNulty, "Band is fun because we get to know students from other grades."

Kelly also added that Bill Dietz's wise cracks were a big plus. This year, the group planned a ski trip, and also entertained the schools and West Acres with various concerts. Stage band, pep band, and the orchestra provided additional outlets to channel musical talents.

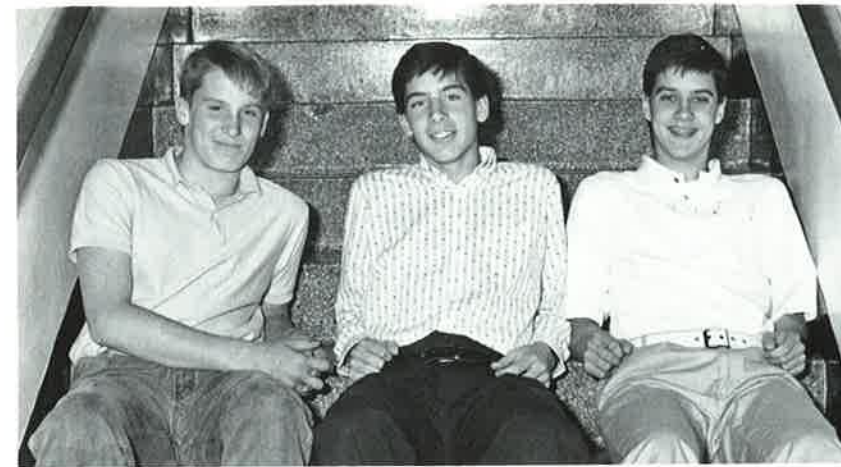

The proud condutor stated, "I believe this band is on the verge of something wonderful. In the past year, we have made tremendous strides in our performance ability." He then added, "Watch for us - soon performances from the Shanley Band will be in great demand."

Class Officers Lead with Style

At Shanley, there are many ways to excel in leadership; involvement as a class officer provides an educational experience and also encourages social growth. Communication skills with the class and administration, and responsibility for designated activities are the result of a successful year and many hours of hard work. Junior Class President Jackie Mari states "Being a class officer has given me leadership abilities I will be able to use in future experiences." Furthermore, class officers learn more about the students in their classes. The most important and probably the most difficult aspect of student government the officers encounter is acknowledging the demands of everyone, knowing how to meet them, and then realizing the fact that everyone can't be pleased. In the end, however, they learn how to deal with people and put thoughts into action.

SHACK Staff Creates the Write Touch

During the school year, the SHACK had set two major goals. The first goal was to improve the overall image of the newspaper. The second goal was to receive the All Northern Award at the NIPA Convention's Spring Awards. Editor Chick Perez, along with Sr. Anne's assistance, did improve the look of the paper literally. This year the SHACK computerized the print of the paper. When asked how she felt about running the SHACK, Perez observed, "Over the year, I tried to create a learning environment for the staff." Perez placed in advertising and Joe Longtin took second in editorial cartoon at NIPA.

Pictured at right are the two most wanted people in the building if the Shanley community is without its cold supply of caffeine and Nutra Sweet. Colleen Dunne and Tina Ayotte have the awesome responsibility of keeping the pop machines filled, day or night, lunch time or even at breakfast. The job is not without its dangers as Ayotte realized one April morning. "A can of pop exploded all over me and I got soaked. I was so embarrassed."

Young Debaters Take the State Championship

This year's debate team focused on four major tournaments: Chaska, Watertown, the State Tourney, and the NFL District Tournament. At Chaska's contest, the prestigious Governor's Cup was captured by Shanley for the first time. Speech competition figured into the Watertown tourney, where Annie Paruccini placed First in Humorous and Cris DuBord took first in Lincoln-Douglas Debate. At the State meet, Christine Neuharth and Michelle Kupich placed first at the Varsity level. Neuharth has been a state champion in each of the levels for four straight years. Also, Mike Eaton and Colleen Dunne won the JV division. The final contest of the year was the NFL, the most difficult. Tina Ayotte and Mike Vosika reached the semi-finals. Four people that qualified for the National Tournament to be held in June at Nashville are: Annie Paruccini in Humorous Interpretation, Sarah Anstett in Dramatic Interpret, Christine Neuharth in Foreign Extemp, and Anne Joyce in Oratory.

The purpose of the Pep Club at Shanley is to support all activities, not just athletics. Members of the club do not meet formally for meetings, but do work on painting posters, writing announcements for the daily bulletin, and promoting Deacon interest as well as involvement in various school organizations. Also, the pep club worked with the planning and organizing of pep fests throughout the year. At left are pictured the four students who participated in the ROTC program this year. ## Honor Society Inducts New Scholars

On Monday, May 2, the National Honor Society held its induction ceremony. To qualify for membership, applicants must maintain a 3.8 grade point average for juniors, and a 3.6 average for seniors. Additionally, students must exhibit qualities of leadership, service, and demonstrate characteristics of ethical conduct. Students who spoke on each of these four qualities in their respective order were: Christine Neuharth, Kelly McNulty, Matt Friederichs, and Shirley Kern. Students who become part of the Honor Society have made positive contributions to their school, clubs, organizations, athletic teams, and the community as well.

Junior Girls Run Bookstore

Throughout the year, two juniors have kept the bookstore open for business during the lunch periods. The bookstore sells textbooks, writing supplies, computer discs, and other related materials. There is not a lot of glamor attached to the job, but as the saying goes, "Somebody has to do it."

Bookstore: Michelle Sauer and Karla Meyer.

Five Transfer to Shanley

In August, five transfer students arrived from St. Gertrude's, whose school in western North Dakota closed. Hosts for the students were the Tim Holland family, Sandy Thiel and Randy Roder's family, and the Stuart Longtin's. Within a short while, the newcomers felt right at home.

Under new coach Nancy Bultema, the Shanley Girls' Tracksters enjoyed a busy and successful spring. With a number of freshmen and sophomore underclassmen, the girls' team was able to fill out the relay events with competitive runners. Leading the way in winning fashion was junior LeeAnna Hiestand who competed in the long jump, 400, 200, and relay. Joining her in the long jump was senior Paulette Nyhof, who placed in the top five at several meets. Juniors Wehage and Dunne helped out in the high jump, relays, and field events, respectively. Shanley's 16 points at the state meet in Grand Forks were all won by Hiestand, who set a new state record in the long jump at 18'6" (wind aided), and who took second in the 400. The Boys' track team was also represented at State by senior Jay Conzemius. Jay took home a second place in both the 100 and the 200 as well as a fourth place in the 400. The boys' track team had a balanced number participating from each class. Scott Wilken and Bill Morris, both seniors, helped out in the shot and relays, respectively. Juniors Ty Devine and Tim Sandy assisted in the running events. Newcomer coach, Scott Colliton, is pleased with the dedication and efforts of the Deacon track team.

Fan Enthusiasm Motivates Girl's Soccer

The Girl's Soccer team began their season slow, but finished as the third ranked team in the Eastern Dakota Conference. The team credits such success to the growing fan enthusiasm. The senior boys attended both home and away games. This support led them to a victory over the tough South High Bruin team. This team consisted only of seniors and freshman girls. The seniors on the team have been playing ever since Shanley began a girl's program, three years ago. Anne Gibb and Mary Short were recognized at the end of the season; both were named to the All Tournament Team.

Golfers Stay Out of the Rough; Mayer is Champ

Under coaches Don Johnson and Mark Johnston, the Shanley golfers had to wait for both the weather and the course to improve before hitting the first tee. A large number of freshmen and seniors competed for a spot on the roster that also included a few talented eighth graders. Seniors Montplaisir, Kelly, Mayer, Cossette, and Mathison were intent on videotaping a Dorf II golf epic for all the time they spent in the sand traps. With windy spring conditions and a tough EDC conference, led by Red River and Fargo North, the Deacons hoped for a strong late-season finish. At the state meet held on June 1 at Edgewood, Matt Mayer captured medalist honors in a playoff, winning the state championship. Shanley placed sixth in the team standings, which was dominated by Bismarck High. Mayer commented to television sportscasters that he just "needed to take advantage of the situation" and play his own game.

Tennis Nets Big Returns

Under returning coach Doug Mithun, the Shanley boys' tennis team met tough opposition in the EDC. Even though the Deacons won few dual meets, senior Paul Mastel qualified for the State meet. The captain of the team was senior Paul Mengedoth. The forecast is bright for the future, since many of the members were underclassmen. Sophomore Dan Bryant remarked, "We have a lot of returning players next year, so we should do well."

Coach Lynda Day of the girls' team worked with a veteran tennis team. Sporting new shirts, the Deacons were led by seniors Tricia Lepine and Katie Christofferson. Experienced squad members Angie Jordahl and Mary Catherine Hicks helped give the team depth. The highlight of the season was Tricia Lepine, who only lost one match at the State meet in Minot, and finished fifth.

Shanley Rocks with State Champs

The volleyball season culminated with the Deacons being crowned as State Champions. Overall, the team record was 27 - 3. The only losses were to Bismarck Century, North, and Minot. The team's priority was "to set high goals and accomplish them," according to Coach Patti Ford. This year's theme, "Success is a journey, not a destination," is indicative of the philosophy that proved to be successful all year long. All-Conference players were: Julie Mullen, LeeAnna Hiestand, and Julie Sherman. Sherman was also named Miss Volleyball of North Dakota. She was the first Deacon to earn this honor. Coach Ford added, "There is more to Shanley than the big two." (referring to Sherman and Hiestand). Shanley's team efforts put them back into the State Tourney for the fifth consecutive year. Other players who made outstanding contributions include: Denise Hughes, Mary Short, Patty Tupa, Cindy Bailey, Tricia Lepine, and Sue Russell. Pictured below are in the first row: Mary Short, Tricia Lepine, Sue Russell, Julie Mullen, Julie Sherman, Cindy Bailey, Patty Tupa. ## New Coach Wrestles with Deacon Program

Under newcomer Glenn Vetter's coaching, the Shanley wrestlers entered into the '87-88 season, grappling with more than just their opponents. The Deacons faced the problem of competing with an incomplete squad, injuries and illness among the team members, and the future of the program. However, there were many bright spots along the way. Deacons Keenan Spiess and Rob Randal placed second and fifth respectively at the EDC tournament held in Jamestown. Spiess reached a personal goal of qualifying individually for the State meet held at NDSU.

In looking ahead to the next season, the future looks much brighter for the Shanley wrestlers. Underclassmen such as Chris Perez, Vince Platt, and Mike Lacher have a great deal of potential, Paul Bannerman also wrestled for the Deacons and will be a freshman next year. Finally, Coach Vetter can look to a fresh start with an enthusiastic group of athletes next year.

Swimmers Are Impressive at State

Despite the fact that the '87 Girls' Swim Team consisted of only nine members, the Deacons made a big splash. Many swimmers improved their personal times during the season, demonstrating that their hard work paid off. Senior Sue Russell stated, "The season went well for everyone and it was a lot of fun. At State, the team placed ninth overall. Tami Rhodes took fourth in the 50 free-style and second in the 100 butterfly. Jenny Beaton placed eleventh in diving. Colleen Barth placed eighth in the 50 freestyle and eleventh in the 200. At the season's end, Rhodes was awarded the Most Valuable swimmer, while Houseman was recognized as the Most Improved."

Pictured at right are Ryan McManus and Corey Rhodes, the two Deacon swimmers representing Shanley on the West Fargo Swim Team. At the State Boys' Meet, McManus took fourth in the 100 backstroke and sixth in the 100 butterfly. Rhodes placed fifth in both the 50 freestyle and 100 breaststroke. Because of the numbers, the Deacons were unable to form a separate competitive team of their own, but were allowed to swim with the Packer team. Dick Fischer also coached this group.

Deacons' Quickness Makes up for Lack of Size

First row-Jeff Manuel, Tucker Sturdevant, Tate Bosak, Greg Mastrud, Adrian Fretland.
Second row-John Eck, Jay Conzemius, Mark Rustad, Matt Mayer, Brian Carroll, Kirk Haverkamp.

Compared to other EDC teams, the Shanley varsity basketball team was among the quickest, yet shortest squad. As a result, the Deacons used the fast break extensively and had to fight hard for every rebound. Among the highlights was the scrappy victory over Moorhead High in the Spud gym. Also, the Deacons won a big game at home against the eventual EDC champs, the West Fargo Packers. At the season's end, award winners who were recognized by Coach Randy Rustad were Greg Mastrud, MVP and winner of the Scoring honors; Matt Mayer, Sixth Man; and Mark Rustad, "Chairman of the Boards."

Under the coaching of Dean Wilson, the Deacon hockey team once again reached the State tourney. During regular season play, the Deacons reached a milestone by defeating both Grand Forks schools for the first time ever. Another impressive victory was demonstrated by the Shanley skaters in an overtime thriller against the Fargo North Spartans, with Dallas Meyer scoring the winning goal. On defense, the goaltending duties were shared by three Deacons, Mark Seeba, Sean Douglas, and Steve Hareland. Senior Dave Mathison provided senior leadership as the team captain. The EDC season also was not without controversy, from illegal sticks to increased publicity over the violent nature of the sport, according to some media representatives. However, the Deacons played the game fairly and competitively all winter. Among the other memorable victories were games against Moorhead, South, and Bismarck Century, which meant qualifying for State. The Deacons finished by placing sixth in the state at the tournament in Grand Forks.

DEACONS REACH SEMIS

Despite many obstacles that would have halted lesser teams, Deacon football stood proud in its perseverance by posting a 7-4 record and reaching the state semi-finals. Coach Bruce Larson announced that he was leaving; the ensuing scramble for a coach turned up Shanley alumnus Tom Eldred. The Deacons had a strong season, including the Homecoming win over Jamestown, the defeat of Fargo North and Grand Forks Central to clinch a play-off berth, and the defeat of Minot to advance to the semi-finals. First-year Deacon coach, Tom Eldred, summed up a great year by declaring that Shanley's continued success was due to the commitment of everyone involved. Cory Emerson #75 stated that "Winning the opening non-conference game aimed the team towards a positive season." Curt Palmer #73 continued, "We did better than anyone expected." Team captain Jay "Darth" Conzemius #33 praised the team when he reflected back on his senior season. "The team worked hard and we gained from it. The thing we had this year was a great team effort."

Girls Take Fourth At State

The Shanley Girls Golf team proved to be tough despite their small size. The team was led through the season by senior Anne Gibb, who said, "The team proved itself by placing third in EDC and fourth in the state." Junior Heather Murphy was also top-ranked, placing tenth in the state. The team finished fourth in the two-day tournament in Grand Forks. Other key members of the team were sophmores Erica Lawler, Jenny Lindely, and Dena Morgan, and senior Heidi Jensen.

Boys' Soccer Kicks into High Gear

The varsity and junior varsity boys' soccer teams kicked off to a good start in '87. Both teams fielded large rosters with nine seniors on the varsity. From the beginning of the season to the finish, both teams developed into cohesive units with impressive records. The varsity went 7-4-1 on the season, while the JV was 8-2. Shanley placed fifth at the state soccer tourney in Jamestown. However, many players felt that the team could have finished in the top three if play had been more consistent.

Four Deacons were named to the All-State team: Greg McManus, Derik Mantel, Steve Hartze, and Darryn Moos. Team Captain Derik Mantel commented, "We have a lot of quality players and good coaching. It was a fun year and we could have taken it all." The Deacons look forward to '88.

Runners Are Like ZZ-Tops Video: "She's Got Legs"

This year's girls' and boys' cross country teams showed great spirit and commitment. Both the boys and girls ran with only four members each; therefore, neither team had enough runners to place in the meets. The team's members exerted an enormous individual effort even though they knew the team could not qualify in the meets. The team runners had fun together, even though they were worked extremely hard by their coaches, Bob Seeba and Jayme Paquin. Amy Schmisek emphasized, "The coaching was good, but they pushed us very hard." The whole team went to state and many of the members qualified in the top 100, which was excellent. Captain Anne Lambert summed up the year in a positive manner by saying, "Everyone made a great effort, and even though our team was small, our quality of running and our spirit made it all worthwhile."

Mark Seeba projects a fine form on the fairway; Chris Glatt outdistances the pack; Amy Schmisek and Jodi Welk await the start at State.

One of the most difficult matches for the Soccer team this year was against North. In overtime, the Deacons were unable to break a 2-2 tie. However, one of the most satisfying matches was a West Fargo contest in which the Deacons won by a ten-goal margin.

Through hard work and team spirit, the Girls' Basketball team finished with a record of 20 wins and only 5 losses. Goals to qualify for state were met when the girls defeated South in the regional tournament. However, the moment of glory had to be the EDC championship game in which Shanley defeated Grand Forks Red River by 69 to 59. The Deacons went on to State in Bismarck, taking fourth place. Shanley had set a record for more state tourney appearances than any other team in North Dakota.

A bright spot in the season was also when Julie Sherman was named to the first team as All-State. Julie was also the leading scorer in the tournament with 65 points. In addition, LeeAnna Hiestand and Sherman were named unanimously to the All-Conference team. Individual team honors recognized Julie Sherman as the most valuable player, Kim Trainor as most improved, and Cindy Bailey as hardest worker.

Above: Deacon Moms back up daughters Julie Sherman, Katie Christofferson, Paulette Nyhof, Michelle Olmstead, Kim Trainor, Cindy Bailey and LeeAnna Hiestand. Paulette Nyhof celebrates the team's fourth place finish at State.

Clockwise: Julie Sherman proudly displays the EDC trophy for fellow seniors Michelle Olmstead, Katie Christofferson and Cindy Bailey. Kim Trainor explodes through the hoop held by Matt Mayer and Kelly Lancaster. Julie Sherman pulls down another rebound against North.

ODDS & ENDS

Clockwise: Nicole Kotrbalearns the REM rules; Dave Sandy, Theresa Andreski, Steve Manuelim-provise in play rehearsal; Kara Paul, Kathy Wehage, Kim Lang scare the lunch crowd with the thought that they are almost seniors; Scott Hilsenderger throws his clay; Rob Randel and Tricia Houseman check for gum in the library; LeeAnna Hiestand watches her step with Greg Mastrud, as Curt Palmer, Cory Kelly, and Kelly Lancaster note the humor of the situation.

Clockwise: Tara Vosikagives student trainer Jennie Lindely a track tip; Scott Johnson absurdly agrees that one even sweats blood for Shanley; Mary Leonhart drives the freshmen in the Homecoming parade, even though Anjie Dreiling makes a grab for the wheel; Tim Muscha completes his pizza shift; Brad Erbes reassures everyone that he is a freshman; senior groupies Christina Palmer, Kris Olsen, Julie Sherman, Michelle Olmstead, Paulette Nyhof have a Coke and a smile.

Clockwise: Jay Conzemius cannot see eye-to-eye with Michelle Kuppich on a no-so-major problem; Mona Theresa Andreski Letterman interviews Craig Murie and Tom Eldred on Late Afternoon; Rod Binfet ignores Mary Mengedoth and Kathy Beare. As the background sign reads "Men", Kelly Lancaster and Chad Wellere our Deacon men on the gridiron; Anne Gibb helps Sorny pick out the home-room with the most overdue books.

Clockwise: Randy Rustad and Patti Ford should know better than to aim for "pie in the sky." Kari Meier cheers at State Girls' basketball tourney; Congressman Byron Dorgan responds to the questions from the Deacon student body; Margaret Sheehan plays Vanna White at the Pizza Kickoff; Seniors Patty Tupa and Jodi Schons show the frosh Sarah DuBord and Sara Haverkamp how it is; Lunch workers Kirk Haverkamp, Steve Sillers, Dennis Young and Mike Vacek scoop up another tuna surprise.

Clockwise: Looking like a theatrical audition, some senior personalities show off their certificates; Kelly Lancaster and Christina Palmer boast that they are the best parties; Keith Montplaisir and Kim Kremer say it's no big HAIRY deal; Paul Mengedoth pleads with Mary Short and Derik Mantel to pass the Maalox, the ulcers are bleeding; Jessica Tillisch and Russ Nordland meet after detention.

Clockwise at top: Sue Russell and Jay Conzemius win the crown for best bod; Theresa Andreski and Mike Vosika are the cutest couple; Dave Mathison and Kim Trainor stare at the camera with the best eyes; Pouting the senior best are Tucker Sturdevant and Katie Christofferson. Unwilling to admit it, Michelle Kuppich and Matt Friederichs won easily in the brown-noser division. Cris DuBord captured the winning smile.

Clockwise: Jay Conzemius and Julie Sherman receive the outstanding senior athlete awards; Christine Neuharth and Dave Sandy don't appear to be too concerned about their hair; Tate Bosak and Tricia Lepinestand on the best senior legs; Corrina Lemar is awarded a scholarship for future educators; Joe Longtin and Jennie Bjornson enjoy having the best voices; It is hard to believe that the boy who lives next door is latest for school, but Mark Seeba is, along with Christina Palmer. The senior personality awards were presented after the prom banquet.

The upper-classmen have made the freshmen feel very welcome this year. The seniors have helped them settle into Shanley comfortably. The freshmen class is small in number, consisting only of about sixty students. It did not take too long before the barriers around the students were broken. In no time at all, people realized that they were all a part of the Shanley community, not just a certain parish or school. The freshmen are led strongly by President Mike Bach, Vice-President Robert Tupa, and Treasurer Derek Halvorson.

Sophomores

As the sophomore class officers took charge of their class responsibilities, they soon discovered that the tenth grade had more duties than the ninth grade demanded. Under the leadership of Mike Eaton and Michelle Joyce, the sophs gained admiration from the upperclassmen by selling massive numbers of pizzas, magazines, and by collecting money from nearly 100 percent of their class in weekly mission collections. Even though the sophomore retreat encountered some difficulty, the class pulled together in the spring and sponsored a great year-end dance.

Finally, all kinds of Shanley creatures lurk the halls on Halloween. Is this an Mtv premier?

Clockwise from top left: Dave Mathison nervously awaits the Coronation ceremony. Sandra Barker and Stephanie Kukowski make a memorable appearance. Todd Meyer tells Tom Baumgartner to act cool when the girls arrive. Kelly Kolars wonders if this is really Algebra class.

The 1987-88 school year proved to be quite memorable for the graduating class. While the seniors enjoyed their last Shanley Homecoming of their high school career, the Minnesota Twins captured their first World Series ever. Even the Deacons got caught up in the Twins fever, which carried over into the Vikings play-off drive. The winter blizzards that ensured us a rare vacation day melted into the enthusiasm for the Winter Olympics staged in Calgary. This exceptional year culminated with the graduation at the end of May of 110 seniors.

Administrators Say Yes To Stv

Sharing administrative duties for the 1987-88 school year were Associate Principals Brother Gary Smith and Sister Anne Frawley. In his second year at Shanley, Brother Gary helped establish and maintain general school policy and regulations. As editor of the Shanley news letter, Brother Gary regularly penned a column, "Principally Speaking," as a means of establishing closer communications with parents and alumni. Sister Anne returned to Shanley from New York after a two-year leave. Sister Anne's philosophy is evident from her comment, "Together let us work hard so that the programs Shanley does have to offer bring out the best in all our students. Mr. Ron Noesen acted as Athletic Director and was in charge of student discipline.

Ron Noesen, Athletic Director

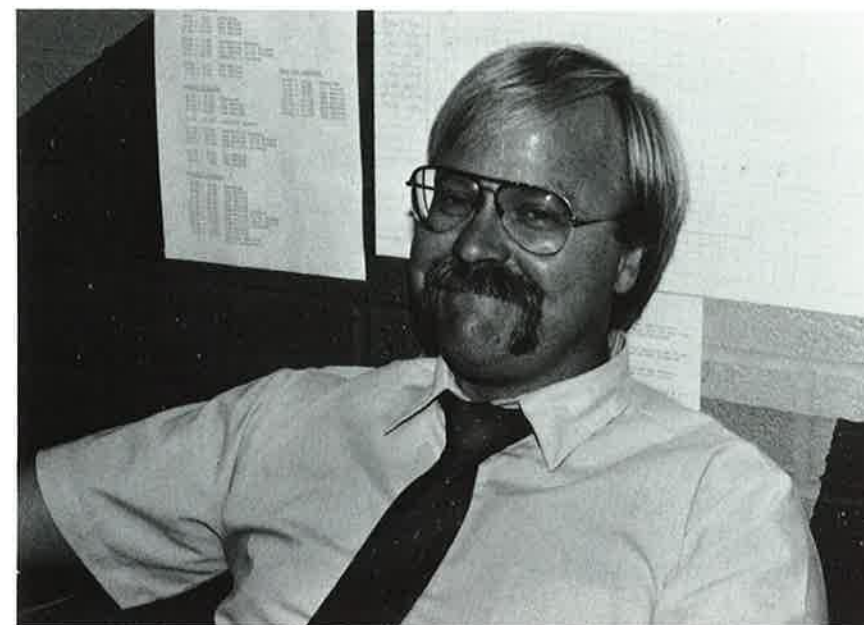

Associate Principal Brother Gary Smith.

Associate Principal Sister Anne Frawley

With several new faces, the Shanley faculty convened in late August to begin a new school year. In September, students were motivated by strong teacher involvement to make the magazine drive successful. Many students still remember "Vanna" Sheehan, as she inspired students to sell their quota in order to receive great prizes. Teacher commitment continued throughout the months. A shaving cream fight between faculty members at the Homecoming Pep Rally provided comedy for the entire student body. At yet another comical school assembly, Mr. Rustad, as Alex Trebeck of "Jeopardy," introduced the theme for the 1987 pizza sales-"Stuffa Ya Face." When teachers met for a workshop on February 15, Reverend Ernie Mancini reminded them of their true mission to patiently give students their time and to them of their true mission to patiently give students their time and to enable students to dream and fulfill their dreams. The involvement of teachers in school and extra-curricular events clearly portrayed the dedication, concern, and motivation of the Shanley faculty.

Class of '88 Flips Their Lids

While the temperature soared to 92 degrees outside, the Shanley graduates numbering 108, marched inside the gymnasium to receive their diplomas. Greeted by class president Derik Mantel, the seniors recited the graduation prayer and listened to the last performance of the Quintessence "Times of Your Life." Under Mr. Schutz, the band performed "Siciliano." Mrs. Kathy Littlefield delivered the commencement address based upon the theme of friendship. Bishop Sullivan congratulated the class of '88 before Father Sandell administered the benediction. Finally, the graduates proudly tossed their caps into the air as the ceremony concluded.

Clockwise from above: Corrina Lemar is greeted by Bishop Sullivan. Cory Kelly, Dave Sandy, Kelly Lancaster, Bill Morris are embarrassing Curt Palmer. Derik Mantel and Mary Mann nervously enter the HOT gym. Greg Mastrude salutes to the school one last time.

Clockwise: Ray Miller, Jennifer Lester, Keith Montplaisir, Kelly McNulty, Darryn Moos cannot wait to throw their caps; Julie Sherman and Scott Johnson ignore the heat; Denise Bakkum and Matt Mayer pair up to enter the gymnasium; Julie Mullenis all smiles on May 29th; Christine Neuharth and Russ Nordland have waited four years for this day; Theresa Andreski and Mike Vosika proudly pose.
