HDRG Names WABCO Reman Solutions the 2014 Heavy Duty Remanufacturer of the Year

CHANTILLY, VIRGINIA – At the HDRG Remanufacturing Summit in Las Vegas on January 27, 2014, the Heavy Duty Remanufacturing Group (HDRG) of the Automotive Parts Remanufacturers Association (APRA) awarded WABCO Reman Solutions its prestigious “Mike Hill Heavy Duty Remanufacturer of the Year Award.” The award is given to a company or individual who has demonstrated innovative ways to create and grow a successful business model and in the process support industry efforts to advance the science of remanufacturing.

According to Sandra Standley, Chairman of HDRG, the panel’s decision to award WABCO of Brussels, Belgium and Rochester Hills, Michigan, this year’s prestigious award was because of WABCO’s support of APRA’s Heavy Duty Brake Group. Sandra said, “One of the reasons I’m proud of WABCO winning this award is that they have always been collaborative across continents with insights and information on remanufacturing. WABCO’s award as the ‘Heavy Duty Remanufacturer of the Year’ fits perfectly with our industry association’s mission and efforts to further global connectivity.”

In accepting the award, Salvador Muñoz-Zarate, WABCO Reman Solutions business leader, said, “We are honored to receive this top industry distinction, particularly as it recognizes our global capability as a differentiator. It also validates our talented team’s continued commitment to grow an organization that serves our customers globally by building on experience, quality and a wide product offer, which are at the core of WABCO’s value proposition.”

As a market leader, WABCO Reman Solutions has earned several key industry certifications, including International Organization for Standardization (ISO) certifications – ISO/TS 16949 and ISO 14001:2004 – for successfully developing standardized quality and environmental management systems at its remanufacturing facilities. It has also received the Occupational Health and Safety Management System BS OHSAS 18001:2007 certification that promotes safety in the workplace.
