

Marsha Bailey Leadership Award

If you have ever had the pleasure of working with Marsha Bailey, you know why AWBC would name an Annual Leadership Award after her. Marsha has made a successful reputation for WEV, the women's business center she founded 30 years ago in Santa Barbara, California and she has helped to advance AWBC in its mission.

If you haven't had the opportunity to personally know Marsha Bailey, you may have the chance to meet her at the 2020 conference and annual meeting in Salt Lake City, UT Aug. 31-September 2.

In short, Marsha Bailey embodies the spirit of servant leadership, evidenced by her selfless and seemingly endless contributions to AWBC. She demonstrates integrity and has developed long-lasting relationships with funders and other partners on the basis of doing what she says she will do. She honors her commitments with passion and is tenacious, never quitting until the job is done. Meanwhile, she teaches and mentors those around her and empowers others to carry the torch further. She has mastered the art of collaboration and her contributions will endure and are embodied in what AWBC has become.

We honor Marsha Bailey for her contributions and seek to recognize members of our WBC community that exhibit these characteristics.

To that end, we ask you to consider nominating your colleagues (within your Women's Business Center or in another Women's Business Center) for this award based on the 5 characteristics below:

- Servant Leadership
- Integrity
- Commitment and Passion
- Empowerment of Others
- Collaboration
