

Are you prepared?

Before applying for accreditation, an organization should have the following items in place:

- Board-approved long-term strategic plan with supporting annual plans
- Well documented, data-driven performance and quality improvement plan and committee
- Risk prevention and management practices
- Training for staff and Board members to understand the importance of accreditation
- Familiarity with accreditation standards and how best to implement and demonstrate compliance
- Complete Accreditation Guru's FREE Accreditation Readiness Assessment

Prepare for greatness!

Becoming accredited offers professional recognition for meeting the highest standards for quality care and gives consumers and clients a tool for qualifying providers. It is a way to implement best practices and ensure operational efficiencies and proper documentation agency-wide.

Accreditation Guru, Inc., will assist your agency to prepare for and achieve accreditation.

SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Self-study compilation and review
- Quality improvement program design
- Customized trainings
- Standards-compliant policies and procedures
- Strategic planning
- Site visit preparation, including mock interviews for staff and Board members
- Maintenance of accreditation plan

Get started today! Call 212.945.8504 or email Info@AccreditationGuru.com

"I thought that I could handle the COA process without the help of an outside consultant, but I was so wrong! Accreditation Guru reviewed documents, made suggestions and recommendations and clarified many of the issues. They were organized, extremely knowledgeable about the entire process, and provided concrete and understandable recommendations."

— Executive Director
Family Counseling & Children's Services of Lenawee County, MI

"While preparing for our initial accreditation, Accreditation Guru organized the work, assisted staff as they completed narratives, trained staff, helped with Performance Quality and Improvement and organized documents for the site visit. Our self-study required no changes and our site visit went so well that our accreditation decision was expedited. I would highly recommend Accreditation Guru to any agency seeking accreditation."

— Chief Operating Officer
United Methodist Children's Home, AL

ACCREDITATION GURU, INC.

Prepare for Greatness

www.AccreditationGuru.com