Corwin Porter is the Deputy Director for San Bernardino County Department of Public Health and has been an integral part of the recovery process following the December 2, 2015 mass shooting. It's been 18 months since the terrorist attack and the county has pushed forward. Corwin will share the ups and downs of their recovery, lessons learned, obstacles overcome, and the future of the Public Health department.

Amir Dabirian is the Vice President for the Division of Information Technology for California State University, Fullerton. Every day we are targeted, tracked, and put at risk every time we use an electronic device. Amir will present on the current state of information security and cyber security strategies. If you want to know if you are safe at work and at home, come hear this presentation to keep you vigilant.
