Welcome

The decision to start a charter public school is a monumental one and indicates a commitment to taking the time necessary to research, build support, assemble a team and ultimately design a school that meets a need in your community. When asked what the most critical element is in developing a successful school, we have noticed that it always comes back to TIME!

It typically takes 18 months to 3 years to bring a school from theory to reality. The first phase alone, if done well, is very time consuming as you research charter school law and best practice, visit other schools, learn about the state accountability system, garner support in the community and build a team with a diverse set of skills. To learn more about the many steps involved in charter school development, please visit the Start a Charter Colorado Flowchart and gain quick access to many of the resources necessary to start a school.

No matter what phase of development you are in; this monthly newsletter will offer you critical resources, helpful tips and information about important events and trainings so that your school can have a solid foundation with a high likelihood of success.

If you haven't come in for a face to face meeting yet, please schedule that with us at your convenience!

Tips for Schools in the Planning Phase

Application Review

If you are planning to submit a charter application to your district this fall, now is the time to schedule an application review. Our extensive two-part application review process should begin eight weeks prior to your district/authorizer application deadline. Stage 5 Planning Grants are available to cover the costs of the application review. These grants are available for groups that have most of the essential pieces of their charter application in place, including a sound budget, thoughtful academic and performance management plans, and a mission-aligned organizational structure. For questions about the application review process, please reach out to Kathy Zlomke at your earliest convenience.

Hire a Consultant!

We understand that founding groups don't always possess all of the skill sets and expertise necessary in charter school development. Charter school law and finance, for example, are areas where founding groups typically require the assistance from experienced professionals. Additionally, the development of the academic program is sometimes an area where founders seek the input and guidance from paid consultants.

The New School Development office at the League has a list of consultants who have been working in the Colorado charter school space for many years. Please contact Lori Ventimiglia or Kathy Zlomke for these lists. Please note - the League has not vetted these consultants beyond their relationships with current charter schools. Therefore, we always recommend that developing groups perform due diligence in contacting more than one of the consultants, in a given area, and asking for costs, expected deliverables, and references before determining it a fit with your school or entering into any contracts with unfamiliar vendors.

Hiring Resources
If you are a newly approved school, you are gearing up for the hiring game! The following two resources should assist you in developing your hiring plan.

- Employment Issues and Hiring a School Leader - Recorded Webinar
- Employment and Hiring Resources

Don't forget to post your school's job openings here on the Colorado League of Charter Schools' Career Center! It's a free resource for new school developers and schools that are members of the League. If you don't have a user ID and password to access the League's website, please contact Jeff Johnson to get started.

Charter Contract Resources
As you prepare for contract negotiations with your authorizer, the resources below will provide guidance for both you and your authorizer in writing effective charter school contracts. Because the charter contract is the foundational agreement that establishes a charter school's autonomy and accountability and the district's rights and obligations, it is essential that the contract meet legal requirements and adhere to best practices. The Sample Contract Language and Attachments articulates the rights and responsibilities of both parties.

Website Development Tip
There has been much focus in Colorado around school website accessibility. If you are a developing charter school and beginning to create your website, you will want to make sure that it is ADA compliant - ensuring all families, regardless of disability, access to the information they need. If hiring an outside web developer -- be sure to ask them if they have experience creating ADA compliant websites.
