CHAIR'S MESSAGE:

A Spotlight on Educators and Advocates

Addiction medicine as a field demands a lot from each of us. No longer is it sufficient to be just the capable diagnostician, pharmacologist, and avid reader of journals. Now, many of us find ourselves educators and advocates, facing questions we barely anticipated. How do we educate our patients on the risks of a substance when state laws and elaborate marketing campaigns tell them otherwise? How do we motivate our overworked colleagues to undertake the treatment of addictions, and help with the destigmatization of the disease?

We face an even greater challenge with the inordinate number of patients who have limited access to care due to poverty, geography, poor public health policy, a deteriorating safety net, and persistent stigma. How do we engage with patients who face so many obstacles? How do we preserve ourselves while we do this important work?

For many of us, CSAM conferences offer a salve by way of time spent with like-minded colleagues addressing these core questions. This year, we continue the tradition by providing a review of addiction fundamentals, but with a twist: we have asked each presenter to comment on strategies for education and advocacy in their areas of expertise. Robert Lustig, MD, author of "The Hacking of the American Mind," will discuss his work on technology and addiction. Fay Zenoff, MBA, director of the Center for Open Recovery, will discuss the role personal recovery can play in our work. We will show the documentary "The Providers," and chat with the filmmaker and a physician featured in the film about battling the opioid crisis in rural New Mexico. A comedian in recovery will perform at our dessert reception and share her own journey to advocacy.

At the time of this writing, our planners are putting the finishing touches to the board exam preparation track, mutual help meetings, case discussions, and pre-conference workshops. Their dedication to crafting a comprehensive conference, featuring diverse and memorable speakers, makes me optimistic about our field. The questions we face are big, but so is the tent we are building.

See you inside.

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 2019

Registration desk is open Tuesday, 4:00 pm – 6:00 pm and Wednesday, 7:00 am – 6:00 pm.

▪ ADDICTION MEDICINE BOARD EXAM PREPARATION TRACK

Wednesday at 2:15 pm - 6:15 pm; Thursday, Friday, and Saturday 7:00 am - 8:00 am

The Board Exam Preparation Track takes place over a span of four days during the conference. It is designed for those preparing to take the American Board of Preventive Medicine (ABPM) Addiction Medicine Board Exam. The Wednesday workshop and daily morning sessions cover 16 key topics, with sample exam questions and rationale provided for answers, as well as test-taking and study tips. Registrants gain access to an online question bank of 400 board-style questions.

▪ MORNING WORKSHOPS

Comprehensive Primary Care for Patients Who Use Drugs 8:30 am – 10:45 am

The workshop is intended for primary care providers of all varieties (adults, pediatrics, OB, geriatrics) who seek to move beyond the treatment of substance use disorders to adapting primary care provision for patients who use drugs. Participants will be introduced to communication strategies for working with patients who use drugs and a decision support toolkit that is adaptable to the patient by type of drug used and route of use. The majority of the workshop will be spent utilizing the toolkit through interactive cases in small groups.

Paula Lum, MD, MPH, FASAM, Professor of Clinical Medicine and Program Director, UCSF Primary Care Addiction Medicine Fellowship; Veronika Mesheriakova, MD, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, UCSF; Mario San Bartolome, Jr., MD, MBA, MRO, FASAM, Medical Director, Substance Use Disorders, Molina Healthcare, Inc.; Ingeborg Schafhalter-Zoppoth, MD, FACP, Associate Director, Sutter Family Health Clinic, California Pacific Medical Center; Christine Soran, MD, Clinical Fellow, UCSF; David Tian, MD, MPP, Medical Director of Buprenorphine Induction Clinic, Highland Hospital, Alameda Health System; Barry Zevin, MD, Medical Director, Street Medicine and Shelter Health, San Francisco Department of Public Health

Fundamentals to Advanced Buprenorphine 8:30 am – 10:45 am

This workshop will focus on the modern prescribing of buprenorphine for opioid use disorder (OUD). Pharmacology, side effect management, and regulations of buprenorphine treatment will all be covered in a flipped-learning format. The onsite session will cover in a recorded webinar prior to the workshop. The workshop will revolve around a case-based approach to current buprenorphine care. Advances including patient selection, regulatory compliance, and new formulations of buprenorphine will move your practice into the state of the art.

David Kan, MD, DFASAM, Private Practice of Psychiatry, Addiction Psychiatry and Forensic Psychiatry, Chief Medical Officer, Bright Heart Health; Matthew Torrington, MD, DFASAM, Addiction Medicine Physician, Private Practice, Los Angeles, CA; Joseph Mega, MD, MPH, Medical Director, Healthcare for the Homeless, Oakland, CA; Farah Zaidi, MD, Psychiatrist, San Mateo Medical Center

Addiction Psychiatry for Addiction Medicine Providers 11:15 am – 1:30 pm

This workshop is a collaboration between the American Academy of Addiction Psychiatry (AAAP) and the California Society of Addiction Medicine. The goal is to teach clinically relevant addiction psychiatry interventions to non-psychiatric addiction medicine providers. The workshop will include didactic information on psychopharmacology for individuals with co-occurring psychiatric and substance use disorder, breakout discussions of cases, and an interactive Q&A session.

Michael Hoefer, MD, Medical Director San Francisco VA Opioid Treatment Program, Program Director UCSF Addiction Psychiatry Fellowship, UCSF; Brian Hurley, MD, MBA, DFASAM, Assistant Professor of Addiction Medicine, UCLA Department of Family Medicine; Martin Leamon, MD, Addiction Psychiatrist, UC Davis Health

▪ AFTERNOON WORKSHOPS

Motivational Interviewing for Busy Clinicians 2:15 pm – 6:15 pm

This workshop will review and teach motivational interviewing (MI) tools for treating unhealthy alcohol and drug use and promoting behavior change in primary care and other specialties. Emphasis will be on mentored small group learning, clinical skills acquisition, and practice. All participants will develop continuing learning plans to increase their proficiency.

Kenneth Saffier, MD, FASAM, Family and Addiction Medicine, Contra Costa County Health Services Department, Contra Costa Regional Medical Center and Health Centers; Catalina Triana, MD, Faculty, John Muir Health/UCSF Family Medicine Residency

What They Didn't Teach You in Medical Training: Protecting Your Medical License and Your Well-Being 2:15 pm – 6:15 pm

This session brings together experts, including physician wellness advocates, addiction psychiatrists, an attorney, and the Medical Board of California to review topics pertaining to physician wellbeing and licensure. Information covered will include: a review of best practices around ethics and boundaries, an overview of the "Death Certificate Project" and "Patients Right to Know Act" and how it impacts practicing physicians. The California Medical Association will discuss a state-wide physician wellness initiative. This workshop will provide attendees clarification on current developments affecting physician health and licensure.

Kevin Cauley, JD, Attorney, Kevin Cauley, P.C.; Scott Clark, MPA, Policy Director, Well Physician California; Matthew Goldenberg, DO, FASAM, Addiction Psychiatrist, Professionals Treatment Program and Addiction Psychiatrist in Private Practice, Santa Monica, CA; Kimberly Kirchmeyer, Executive Director, Medical Board of California; Karen Miotto, MD, DFASAM, Chair, Chair of Physician Wellness Program; Professor of Psychiatry, David Geffen School of Medicine, UCLA, Department of Psychiatry and Biobehavioral Sciences; Chair, California Public Protection and Physician Health (CPPPH); Lee Snook, Jr., MD, DFASAM, Medical Director, Metropolitan Pain Management Consultants, Inc.
