A Career in Copyright Law: Where Do I Start?

A New York Chapter Brown Bag Lunch

Copyright law is one of the most exciting and rapidly changing fields of intellectual property. However, recent law school graduates and new attorneys trying to forge a career in copyright are often faced with one tough question: "Where do I start?"

To answer this question, our New York Chapter has put together an informal Brown Bag Lunch featuring Leia LeFay and Joshua Graubart, two prominent copyright attorneys. The panelists will offer valuable insight into what a recent graduate or new attorney can do to pursue a career in copyright law, as well as what a copyright attorney does and how he or she networks and maintains a foothold in the field.
