Speaker: Daniel J. Siegel, Esquire

Whether you choose to be online or not (and you should be online), your clients will write you reviews. Unfortunately, angry clients are much more likely to write about you than happy clients. Mr. Siegel will:

- * Explore the practical issues surrounding getting good reviews
- * Offer ways to monitor your online reputations
- * Discuss how or whether you should respond when someone bashes you online without violating your ethical responsibilities
- * Address the ethical implications of responding to online reviews

Hoban-Smith v. Smith*Family Law – Divorce – Appeal from Petition for Reconsideration and Petition for Special Relief – Equitable Distribution*

A trial court may modify or rescind any order within thirty days after its entry if no appeal has been taken. If a notice of appeal has been filed, the trial court cannot take further action in the matter.

A trial court has the inherent power to amend its records, to correct mistakes of the clerk or other officer of the court, inadvertencies of counsel, or supply defects or omissions in the records, even after the lapse of the term.

The Trial Court held:

This matter stems from an appeal from this Court's Order granting Plaintiff's Petition for Special Relief and Order Denying Defendant's Petition for Reconsideration. The parties separated in 2014 and were divorced by a Divorce Decree in July, 2015. Prior to said decree, a Support Order was recommended requiring Appellant to pay 93% of all child support obligations including private school tuitions. Following the Divorce Decree, Appellee filed an Emergency Petition for Special Relief to Compel Appellant to pay the private school tuition of their daughter, which was granted. Appellant's Petition for Reconsideration followed, which was denied.

Despite the thirteen (13) alleged errors complained of on appeal, the sole issue before this Court was the payment of the private school tuition of the parties' daughter. Testimony before this Court revealed that during the course of the parties' marriage, they entered into a tuition contract with their daughter's school requiring quarterly tuition payments. Said tuition contract was agreed to while the parties were in an intact marriage. The parties Support Order was not retroactive and not in place until April 2015, almost one (1) year following the tuition contract. In his Petition for Reconsideration, Appellant sought an examination of Appellee's expenses and monthly bills in connection with payment of an outstanding tuition bill. Appellant was ordered by this Court to pay said tuition as a marital debt, incurred during the course of the marriage. The Court did not disturb the Support Order, but instead afforded Appellee, a stay at home mother, relief through an Equitable Distribution order that Appellee had not been provided for in the Support Order.

Appellant's arguments that this Court erred when correcting the characterization of the issues before it as "custody" as opposed to "divorce" are entirely without merit. Such claims are without merit as such changes were made to reflect the proper caption of the case, as permitted by law.

PA Superior Court Appeal Docket No. 3260 EDA 2015

Jean Moskow, Esquire, Attorney for the Plaintiff/Wife/Appellee

Craig Huffman, Esquire, Attorney for the Defendant/Husband/Appellant

Opinion by the Honorable Barry C. Dozor, filed December 9, 2015

OpinionNATURE AND HISTORY OF THE CASE:

This Appeal is an Appeal from this Court's Order Granting Plaintiff's Petition for Special Relief issued on August 18, 2015 and the Order Denying Defendant's Petition for Reconsideration issued on October 21, 2015. After a review of all relevant files and documents, this Court notes that a Divorce Decree was issued on July 21, 2015 by The Honorable Linda A. Cartisano.

By way of background, this Court notes that on April 13, 2015, a Support Order¹ was recommended by Master Donnelly. In the April 13, 2013 Support Order Husband was required to pay 93% of all child support obligations including 93% of all private school tuitions for both children. This Support Order was effective as of the date of the Hearing before Master Donnelly.

On August 5, 2015, Wife filed an Emergency Petition for Special Relief to compel Husband to pay the tuition for Minor Daughter to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur. This Court held a Hearing on August 18, 2015. Following the Hearing, this Court issued an Order Granting Wife's Petition for Special Relief and requiring Husband to pay Minor Daughter's 2014-2015 tuition, including any fees, within ten (10) days with Husband receiving a dollar for dollar credit during Equitable Distribution. This Court also made no specific ruling or determination that Husband had not already paid or contributed to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur for Minor Daughter for the same school year.

On August 24, 2015, Husband filed a Petition for Reconsideration of the Court's Order dated August 18, 2015 and a Statement of Newly Discovered Information. This Court held a Hearing held on Husband's Motion on September 24, 2015 and October 16, 2015; thereafter, on October 21, 2015, this Court issued an Order Denying Husband's Petition for Reconsideration.²

Husband filed the underlying Appeal on October 29, 2015. Husband filed this Appeal as a "Children's Fast Track Appeal" and as such filed his Concise Statement of Matters Complained of on Appeal Contemporaneously.

A quick review of the filed "Statement of Errors Complained of on the Appeal" demonstrates to the reader that the Statement of Errors is twelve pages long. An in depth review of this document reveals that the first four and a half pages, or paragraphs 1-29, are merely a recitation of the background of the parties' and the proceedings in the case. The next three pages of Appellant's Statement of Matters Complained of on Appeal detail thirteen (13) alleged errors contained in this Court's Order. This Court notes that this case was not overly complicated and only involved an Emergency issue of Equitable Distribution of the parties.

Appellant's Concise Statement of Matters Complained of on Appeal, alleges the following areas of error:

1. The Trial Court erred when it Ordered Defendant to pay the outstanding tuition and associated costs.
2. The Trial Court erred when it precluded Defendant from obtaining and reviewing Plaintiff's bank records in order to meaningfully cross examine Plaintiff.
3. The Trial Court erred when it precluded Defendant from obtaining information from Plaintiff as to what she allegedly spent the ¹Husband filed an Appeal of this Support Order which was scheduled before The Honorable Senior Judge Joseph P. Cronin, Jr.

²This Court notes that November 5, 2015, Wife filed a Motion to Vacate the October 21, 2015 Order and for Entry of a Corrective Order. A review of the docket indicated that this Court incorrectly captioned the October 21, 2015 Order "In Custody" and not "In Divorce;" therefore this Court Granted Wife's Motion to Vacate and issued an Amended Order on November 9, 2015 reflecting that this case was "In Divorce" not "In Custody."

- money on, which prevented Defendant from being able to conduct a meaningful cross examination.
4. The Trial Court erred by ordering Defendant to pay money without affording him Due Process of law.
 5. The Trial Court erred in finding that minor daughter would be prevented from attending school at Notre Dame, in that there was no testimony or documentary evidence that Notre Dame would remove minor daughter from the school if the tuition was not paid and no testimony or documentary evidence submitted that the school had even threatened such a consequence for Plaintiff's failure to pay the tuition.
 6. The Trial Court erred in that the Order from which this appeal is taken exceeded its jurisdiction under the Custody Act, specifically ordering a payment of tuition.
 7. The Trial Court exceeded its jurisdiction when it recharacterized this support matter, under which the initial Petition was filed, as a custody matter.
 8. The Trial Court erred by ordering relief in equitable distribution in what the court re-characterized as a custody matter, when the Petition was filed as a support matter.
 9. The Trial Court abused its discretion when it determined Plaintiff's testimony that she was unable to pay the tuition, even though she would not explain what she actually spent the tuition money on, was credible.
 10. The Trial Court erred when it ordered a non-party corporation to make a cash distribution to compensate for Plaintiff refusing to pay funds she received for tuition.
 11. The Trial Court erred when it pierced the corporate veil of the non-party corporation and, in effect, ordered it to make a distribution to Defendant.
 12. The Trial Court violated the coordinate jurisdiction rule by ruling on a matter pending before a different Judge (Judge Cronin).
 13. As the Trial Court has characterized Mother's Petition as being a custody matter, there are no outstanding custody issues and the matter is a final Order of Court.

FACTS:

The parties in this case were married and had been since July 9, 1994. The parties separated in October of 2014 and Wife filed her Complaint in Divorce on October 21, 2014, which contained a count of Equitable Distribution. The parties were divorced by a Divorce Decree issued on July 21, 2015.

The parties in this case have two Minor Children, a daughter (DOB 9/18/1998) and a son (DOB 4/30/2002). The parties' Minor Daughter currently attends The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur, annual tuition of approximately $14,000. The parties' Minor Son currently attends St. Margaret School, as his sister did before him. This Court heard testimony that the annual tuition of St. Margaret's School is approximately $3,600.

The sole issue before this Court was the payment of the tuition of Minor Daughter's School, The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur. The issue was before this Court as a result of an Emergency Petition filed by Wife under the Divorce caption in the above docket number. Wife was seeking payment of Minor Daughter's 2014-2015 tuition and attorney's fees. This Court heard testimony that the 2014-2015 school year was Minor Daughter's Sophomore year of High School and that she had attended The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur for her Freshman year and as of the date of the Hearing on Wife's Emergency Petition for Special Relief, Minor Daughter was scheduled to begin her Junior Year at The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur. This Court also heard testimony and received evidence that the parties, during the course of their marriage entered into a contract with The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur to pay the tuition for Minor Daughter's 2014-2015 tuition payments. See Plaintiff's Exhibit, P-6. The parties, on March 24, 2014 determined that the tuition payments for The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur would be paid quarterly, with the tuition therefore paid in four installments. The payments for the 2014-2015 school year for The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur were therefore due in June, September, December and March. This Court notes that the testimony presented to this Court was that the parties were in an intact marriage at the time the contract was entered into. This Court heard testimony from both parties that Husband was the sole wage earner, with Wife being a stay at home mother, and with Husband paying all the parties bills and expenses during the marriage. This Court heard credible testimony that Wife was unaware of the monthly expenses of the parties during their marriage as that was solely Husband's responsibility in their marriage. This Court heard credible testimony that the parties remained in an intact marriage until separation in October of 2014. Therefore, per the tuition payment plan established between the parties and The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur, at the time of separation, two separate payments of tuition would have been outstanding, one payment in December and one payment in March.

This Court heard the credible testimony of Wife and was presented with evidence that there parties have an outstanding tuition bill for the 2014-2015 school year at The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur for $7,185. This Court also heard the credible testimony of Wife, that as she was a stay at home mother, and depended solely on the income and assistance of Husband after the parties separation, that Wife had an inability to pay the tuition owed for the 2014-2105 school year at The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur.

DISCUSSION:

This Court has reviewed the thirteen allegations of errors raised by Husband in his Concise Statements of Matters Complained of on Appeal and this Court determines that the issues can be concisely addressed in two issues.

I. THE COURT DID NOT ERR IN DETERMINING THAT HUSBAND WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR PAYING MINOR DAUGHTER'S TUITION.

Appellant alleges that this Court erred in determining that Husband was required to pay the outstanding tuition and associated costs. Husband alleges that in rendering that determination, the Court erred when it precluded Defendant from obtaining and reviewing Wife's bank records, when it precluded examination of Wife to determine how she spend the money awarded in the Support Order and by failing to provide Husband with Due Process. Additionally, Husband alleges that this Trial Court violated the coordinate jurisdiction rule by ruling on a matter pending before a different Judge Cronin. Finally, Husband alleges that this Trial Court erred when it ordered a non-party corporation, by piercing the corporate veil of a non-party corporation, to make cash distribution to compensate for Plaintiff refusing to pay funds she received for tuition.

This Court issued an Order that determined Husband was to pay a marital debt, which was incurred during the marriage by an agreement of both the parties. This Court heard credible testimony and received evidence that during the marriage, on March 24, 2104, the parties agreed to a payment plan with The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur wherein the parties agreed that for the 2014-2015 school year, they would jointly be responsible for a total of $15,210. See Plaintiff's Exhibit, P-4. This Court also heard credible testimony that over half of that tuition payment to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur had been paid and the balance outstanding was $6,185. See Plaintiff's Exhibit, P-4. This Court also heard credible testimony and was provided evidence that Wife paid a $1,000 payment to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur in order to secure a seat for Minor Daughter for the 2015-2016 school year. See Plaintiff's Exhibit, P-5). This Court heard credible testimony that The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur used the one thousand dollar check issued by Wife not for her intended purpose of securing Minor Daughter's seat for the 2015-2016 school year but was rather apportioned to the outstanding 2014-2015 school year balance. The outstanding balance owned to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur is $7,185 for the 2014-2015 school year based upon the March 24, 2015 Enrollment Contract.

This Court notes that the outstanding Petitions filed by Wife was done so under the Divorce caption in this case and requested relief within the confines of equitable distribution. This Court held a hearing and determined that this case, although a support order was in place and was pending, that Wife was entitled to relief inequity. This Court in no way amended the outstanding support or interfered with the pending appeal of the Support Order. This Court notes that the Support Order was not retroactive and was active from April 15, 2015 forward; therefore, the current Support Order clearly did not account for the tuition bill of Minor Daughter which should have been paid in full by March 31, 2015. Therefore, it was not relevant to this Court's determination to have Wife testimony regarding her expenses and payments of monthly bills based upon the current outstanding Support Order. This Court did not abuse its discretion when it determined Wife's testimony that she was unable to pay the tuition. Additionally, this Court did not violate the coordinate jurisdiction rule as this Court did not disturb the outstanding Support Order nor did this Court disrupt the issue pending before Judge Cronin, which was an appeal of the Support Order taken by Husband. This Court issued an Order in Equitable Distribution to provide Wife with relief that she had not been provided in the Support Order due to the Order's effective date.

This Court is perplexed by Husband's allegation that this Court ordered a non-party corporation, by piercing the corporate veil of a non-party corporation, to make cash distribution to compensate for Plaintiff refusing to pay funds she received for tuition. There is no Court Order which required any corporation to pay any outstanding debt owed, specifically the 2014-2015 tuition to The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur. As this Court's Order is silent to any corporation or piercing any corporate veil, this issue must be dismissed by any appellate court.

Finally, this Court determines that there was no error of the Trial Court in finding that Minor Daughter would be prevented from attending school at The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur. This Court heard credible testimony from Wife that she was in constant contact with The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur regarding Minor Daughter's delinquent tuition. This Court determined that Wife's testimony that Minor Daughter's removal from school was credible in that the private school of The Academy of Notre Dame de Namur, is not in the position of having young women enrolled in a school where the monetary obligations of the tuition are consistently late and not paid in full at the end of the school year. It was wholly reasonable for this Court to infer that Minor Daughter's enrollment would be in jeopardy; therefore, there is no error on the part of this Court.

II. THE COURT PROPERLY CORRECTED THE UNDERLYING DENIAL OF HUSBAND'S MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION.

Appellant's next allegations of errors involved the Court's Order and the correction of the Court's October 21, 2015 Order. Appellant alleges that the Court improperly characterized the issues before it as "Custody" issues and then erred again when the Court issued the Order correcting that characterization. This Court notes that this Court's October 21, 2015 was improper as it was improperly filed in custody, this Court exceeded the jurisdiction of the Custody Act, that the Court improperly ordered relief in equitable distribution in what the court re-characterized as a custody matter, when the Petition was filed as a support matter and the Trial Court has characterized Mother's Petition as being a custody matter, there are no outstanding custody issues

The statutes and case law are clear, a trial court may modify or rescind any order within thirty days after its entry, if no appeal has been taken. 42 Pa.C.S.A. §5505. If a notice of appeal has been filed, by either party, the trial court cannot take further action in the matter. Pa.R.A.P. 1701(a). However, a trial court has the inherent power "to amend its records, to correct mistakes of the clerk or other officer of the court, inadvertencies of counsel, or supply defects or omissions in the record, even after the lapse of the term." Commonwealth v. Cole, 437 Pa. 288, 263 A.2d 339, 341 (1970). This power of the trial court to amend the record is reflected in Rule 1701(b)(1) of the Rules of Appellate Procedure. See Manack v. Sandlin, 2002 PA Super 328, ¶14, 812 A.2d 676, 680 (2002). Pennsylvania Rule of Appeal Procedure, subsection (b) specifically states the following:

Authority of a trial court or agency after appeal. After an appeal is taken or review of a quasijudicial order is sought, the trial court or other government unit may:

- (1) Take such action as may be necessary to preserve the status quo, correct formal errors in papers relating to the matter, cause the record to be transcribed, approved, filed and transmitted, grant leave to appeal in forma pauperis, grant supersedeas, and take other action permitted or required by these rules or otherwise ancillary to the appeal or petition for review proceeding.

In the case sub judice, Appellee filed on November 5, 2015, a “Motion to Vacate October 21, 2015 Order and For Entry of a Corrective Order.” This Court notes that upon review of the Motion filed by Appellee and the Court’s October 21, 2015 Order, this Court issued the Amended Order, on November 9, 2015, within thirty days of the date of the prior Order.

This Court notes that the Supreme Court has permitted the entry of a corrective order more than thirty days after the filing of the original and after the filing of a notice of appeal. See Manack v. Sandlin, 2002 PA Super at 15, 812 A.2d at 680-81; Cole, 263 A.2d at 341. The Supreme Court in Cole, determined that a trial court had the inherent authority to correct an order and issuing the ruling, the Supreme Court reasoned that, “[t]he 1959 statute was never intended to eliminate the inherent power of a court to correct obvious and patent mistakes in its orders, judgments and decrees.” Manack v. Sandlin, 2002 PA Super at 15, 812 A.2d at 680-81 quoting Cole, 263 A.2d at 341.

In the case law following Cole, the Supreme Court has determined that even when there has been an appeal filed, that appellate filing “does not divest the trial court of its inherent power to correct obvious and patent mistakes in its orders.” Commonwealth v. Klein, 566 Pa. 396, 781 A.2d 1133, 1135 (2001); Manack v. Sandlin, 2002 PA Super at 16, 812 A.2d at 681.

This Court determines that the November 9, 2015 Order was entered to “correct” a “formal error.” This Court’s clear intention was to issue an Order on October 21, 2015 that Denied Husband’s Motion for Reconsideration and upheld the August 18, 2015 Order which provided Wife with the relief requested which was payment of Minor Daughter’s tuition. Appellant himself acknowledged in his allegations of error in the Concise Statement of Matters Complained of on Appeal, “[a]s the Trial Court has characterized Mother’s Petition as being a custody matter, there are no outstanding custody issues” This Court is perplexed that Appellant acknowledges that there were no outstanding custody matters how it was in error for this Court to correct what was clearly a scrivener’s error in captioning the case “In Custody”. This Court notes that the caption “In Custody” was a clear scrivener’s error, as the Court did not put the “Notice” at the bottom of the Order which is required in every custody Order to put the parties on notice of the rules and regulations regarding relocation.

Therefore, pursuant to the holdings in Manack, Cole and Klein, this Trial Court was within its authority to enter the Amended Order dated November 9, 2015, whereby the Order Denying Defendant’s Petition for Reconsideration dated October 21, 2015 was clarified and corrected to reflect the case was filed under the Divorce caption and not the Custody caption, this Court finds Appellant’s arguments are without merit.

CONCLUSION:

For all of the foregoing reasons, this Court’s Order Granting Plaintiff’s Petition for Special Relief issued on August 18, 2015 and the Order Denying Defendant’s Petition for Reconsideration issued on October 21, 2015 should be AFFIRMED and this Appeal should be DISMISSED.
