

Dr. Philip G. Koehler
Professor of Urban Entomology, UF

Dr. Philip G. Koehler is the Margie and Dempsey Sapp Endowed Professor of Structural Pest Control and also the Florida Pest Management Association's Endowed Professor of Urban Entomology at the University of Florida. He is an honorary member of the Florida Pest Management Association and honorary member of the Certified Pest Control Operators of Florida.

His honors include the National Pest Management Association's Leadership Award, the University of Florida's Distinguished Faculty Award, University of Florida's Academy of Teaching Excellence, University of Florida Professorial Excellence Award, Two USDA Distinguished Service Awards, The Florida Pest Management Association Outstanding Service Award, 2012 Pioneer Award and 2013 President's Award. He was inducted into the Pest Management Professional Hall of Fame in 2015 and received the PCT Leadership Award in 1996.

He is well known for his research in Urban Entomology and Structural Pest Control, including research on mosquitos, bed bugs flies, cockroaches, termites and ants.