

Ed Denton is president of Denton Realty Company and the principal advisor to the firm's clients. His real estate practice includes traditional brokerage as well as consulting and asset management for investors, developers and lenders.

Mr. Denton has significant experience as an owner, operator, consultant and broker in the hospitality and commercial real estate industries. Prior to establishing Denton Realty Company, he co-founded a real estate management, consulting and investment firm that was acquired in 2012 by an affiliate of Lingerfelt CommonWealth Partners. Mr. Denton held executive positions at several private real estate firms with investments in hotels, apartments, retail, self-storage, office and industrial properties. He started his career with Marriott International where he held property management positions.

Mr. Denton has served on multiple professional and civic boards and as an adjunct faculty member at Tidewater Community College. He is currently on the board of directors for Hampton Roads Association for Commercial Real Estate and Virginia Beach Vision.