Michele Aldrich History and Philosophy of Geology Student Research Award

GSA’s History and Philosophy of Geology Division is soliciting proposals for a student research award. Up to US$4,000 is available if justified with a supporting budget.

This award, established in 2017, is made possible by the Michele Aldrich History and Philosophy of Geology Student Research Award Fund, managed by the GSA Foundation. The purpose of the fund is to support research grants through the History and Philosophy of Geology Division for students who conduct historical research within the geosciences. Graduates within five years of their Ph.D. completion (early career scholars) are also eligible.

Steps to Success

• Compose responses with the attached GSA Graduate Student Research Grant worksheet.
  Assemble all materials necessary in advance of submission.

• Current students: Submit the form online by the February deadline through the GSA Student Research Awards website, www.geosociety.org/grants.

• Early career scholars: Submit the form, your CV, and contact information for three scholars who can serve as your references to the History and Philosophy of Geology Division Awards Chair by the GSA February deadline.

Recipients of the Michele Aldrich History and Philosophy of Geology Student Research Award will be included in the annual GSA and/or GSA Foundation research award ceremonies, along with other student research award recipients.

For additional information, please see the History and Philosophy of Geology Division webpage at http://community.geosociety.org/histphildiv/.