

David A. Kosar

David A. Kosar, consultant, has 30 years of experience in state and federal legislative/regulatory lobbying and advocacy, and association management.

From 1987 to 2004, David represented the Healthcare Distribution Management Association (formerly the National Wholesale Druggists' Association) and its full-service drug distributor members, as director of state legislative affairs, successfully on numerous issues having both an individual state and national impact, including the development, enactment, and implementation of a 50-state licensing and regulatory program for drug distributors as required by the Prescription Drug Marketing Act of 1987. He also assisted in the development of enhanced industry standards to address and resolve issues concerning the distribution of prescription drugs.

David is a graduate of West Virginia University, receiving the Bachelor of Science in Journalism (BSJ) degree, and Marshall University, receiving the Master of Arts in Journalism (MAJ) degree.
