

Deborah A. Pearce, JD

Deborah Pearce practices law in all federal circuits. She handles and consults matters involving complex commercial litigation, including issues relating to health law, pharmacy law, civil and white collar criminal actions involving FDA and DEA. Ms. Pearce served as lead counsel in the Medical Center Pharmacy vs. Mukasey and Medical Center vs. Holder appeals to the Fifth Circuit, and currently serves as general counsel to IACP and represents numerous pharmacies in FDA and State regulatory matters. Ms. Pearce publishes and lectures regularly, teaches as an adjunct professor at Tulane Law School, and is a Past-President of the Federal Fifth Circuit Bar Association. Representative clients include numerous hospitals, scores of pharmacies, news organizations, as well as several lawyers and judges. Ms. Pearce received her J.D. from Tulane Law School in 1993. She graduated Summa Cum Laude at the top of her class and was voted the Top Civil Law Graduate by the State Bar. Ms. Pearce has been chosen as a corporate counsel and appellate “Super Lawyer” for the last three consecutive years, a distinction granted to only five percent of all attorneys nationwide.