

Gary McCrory, RPh, CNN

Gary McCrory began working with his father, Bart McCrory, after graduating from Northeast Louisiana University in 1977.

Throughout his career, Gary has gained extensive knowledge in the fields of compounding pharmacy and customized medication. Gary served as the chairperson of the Compounding Pharmacist section of the Texas Pharmacy Association. Additionally, Gary received the Pharmacist of the Month Award in 1997 from the Professional Compounding Centers of America. Currently, Gary is serving his second term as a board member for the International Academy of Compounding Pharmacists. He serves the healthcare community by speaking frequently at health awareness conferences and continuing education meetings. In 2008, Gary became a Certified Clinical Nutritionist (CCN).

