

Kimberly Hansen, RPh

Kimberly Hansen, RPh. is a pharmacist at Town & Country Compounding and Consultations, a compounding-only pharmacy located in Ridgewood, NJ. Town & Country Compounding provides both sterile and non-sterile preparations for patients in NJ and surrounding states. She discovered her love for compounding while working in a small independent pharmacy while she was in high school and never looked back. She received her pharmacy degree from Rutgers University in New Jersey and has enjoyed compounding for both people and pets. Kim also serves as the Chair of the IACP Communications Committee in order to share her passion for compounding advocacy. Kim and her husband reside in NJ and enjoy scuba diving and traveling.
