

Shawn E. Hodges, PharmD

Shawn E. Hodges, PharmD is an owner and pharmacist at Innovation Compounding, Inc., a compounding-only pharmacy located in Kennesaw, GA. Innovation Compounding provides both sterile and non-sterile preparations for patients across the US. Shawn received his PharmD from Texas Tech University School of Pharmacy in 2001. Upon graduation he was awarded a one-year fellowship program with Eli Lilly, with the focus on the drug approval process by serving as a regulatory liaison between FDA and Lilly. Since completion of the fellowship, he has provided countless medication management consultations as well as clinical presentations through various state conferences. Shawn also serve on the IACP Board of Directors, is a member of the IACP Legislative Committee, and also serves as Chairman of IACP COM PAC. Shawn and his Family reside in Marietta, GA. They enjoy rafting, running, and spending time on the trails of Kennesaw Mountain. Specifically, Shawn is a huge fan of golf and football, and he hopes that in the next 10 years his wife will enjoy the same!
