

<https://iam.site-ym.com/page/Membership>

AAM is offering scholarships to attend the conference for those who have been impacted by COVID. It is a simple form to be filled out and if you receive it you only pay $25 to attend.

The Chicago Museum Exhibitors Group is holding a webinar on May 27 about Touch in Museums:
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/questions-about-touch-in-museums-tickets-106024500134>

Here's the AASLH link for opening protocols: <https://aaslh.org/covid19/> from sites across the nation

In the AAM meeting yesterday they had two doctors from Johns Hopkins talk and gave some great information, they were asked about interactives and hands/children museums and the doctors said phase 5-vaccines before those can reopen. We have asked AAM to make this public, if you are an AAM member, reach out and hopefully they will give this info to members at least, if not all.

Mysterious Chicago has been doing mini sessions everyday at 10am, a Thursday night show, sometimes a Saturday night and a Sunday morning show. They put up a venmo link at the end for donations and have been successful.

I'm with the Champaign County History Museum. We are trying to figure out how to make our traditional tours virtual and charge for them. They are one of our revenue streams so it's kind of important to us to make it work.

I have seen and participated in trivia on Zoom and Facebook live Kahoot and Sporcle have also been used.