ICPHSO REGIONAL PRODUCT SAFETY TRAINING WORKSHOP HOSTED BY THE HOME DEPOT – JUNE 2, 2016

Washington, D.C. May 9, 2016 — The International Consumer Product Health and Safety Organization is holding its regional product safety training workshop on June 2, 2016 in Atlanta, Georgia, hosted by The Home Depot at its headquarters facility.

Building off this year's 2016 Annual Meeting and Training Symposium theme, The Challenge of Change: Collaborating Today for a Safer Tomorrow, the Southeast Regional Product Safety Training Workshop will focus on Preparing for the Products of Tomorrow. The one-day training workshop provides an opportunity for health and safety professionals to participate in discussions on the challenges posed to product safety with emerging technology, new and innovative products and the best practices developed for managing outcomes.

Workshop speakers include industry executives, members of the legal community, service providers including test labs and recalls specialists as well as regulators from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission and Health Canada. Workshop training focuses on:

- Lifecycle planning for product safety;
- Raising the product safety bar beyond regulatory compliance;
- Establishing an effective product safety training program; and
- Innovations in product safety design.

A keynote address features The Honorable Elliot F. Kaye, Chairman of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

When: Thursday, June 2, 2016

Where: The Home Depot Headquarters, 2455 Paces Ferry Road, SE, Atlanta, GA

ICPHSO Hotel: LaQuinta Inns & Suites, 2415 Paces Ferry Road, SE, Atlanta, GA, Phone: 770-801-9002
