

TWO LEADERSHIP POSITIONS at Sam Houston State University

The College of Health Sciences at Sam Houston State University announces its search for two innovative leaders with solid records of academic accomplishment and organizational leadership. Both of these positions provide dynamic individuals the opportunity to lead and effect positive change in a growing, top regional university.

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs OR Research and Graduate Programs:

The Associate Dean is a critical member of the college's administrative leadership team and participates in university-wide initiatives. The College includes four units: School of Nursing, Population Health, Family and Consumer Sciences, and Kinesiology. The Associate Dean assists the Dean in guiding the College, providing leadership and oversight for one of two general areas: academic affairs or graduate programs/research (depending on skill set and area of expertise).
