Brandon Siler – Professional Athlete

Brandon Siler, a former NFL player, entrepreneur, author, and keynote speaker is the founder of Legacy Pro Sports and the owner of Pure Recovery California. After an impressive football career that included stints with the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs, Siler decided to turn his attention to entrepreneurship. He founded Legacy Pro Sports with the goal of assisting former NFL players who are unable to obtain NFL disability benefits. The company provides various forms of assistance, including line of duty, total and permanent, and neurocognitive disability support.

As an accomplished NFL football player turned entrepreneur and mental health advocate, Siler knows firsthand what it takes to lead a team to success. His insights on developing the necessary skills to become an effective leader include the importance of vision, communication, accountability, and self-awareness – all essential factors in defining a leader. Throughout his public speaking engagements and B.Siler Leadership Academy, he offers practical tips and advice on cultivating leadership skills, regardless of your industry or career path. Siler's other ventures, are Legacy Healthy Minds, and Pure Recovery California Rehabilitation Center. which are focused on mental health performance and recovery at a state-of-the-art mental health treatment center offering a holistic approach to help collegiate and professional athletes beyond the football field into the realm of addiction recovery and suicide prevention. His commitment to excellence, both on and off the field, is a testament to his character and dedication to making a positive impact in the world.
