

Brandy McKeown, OTR/L, CLT-LANA, CLWT

Brandy McKeown is an occupational therapist with 24 years of hands-on experience as a lymphedema practitioner. She is director of multiple outpatient clinics in South Georgia that specialize in lymphedema therapy and wound healing. Brandy is also the CEO of International Lymphedema and Wound Training Institute. She is nationally recognized as an expert in the field of lymphedema, leader and board member of several industry organizations, and is regularly requested to speak at regional and national conventions. In addition to treating patients, she has a wealth of knowledge and a track record of building successful lymphedema clinics. She works to consult OT/PTs and vein/wound clinics to start up lymphedema programs and expand their practices profitably.

Disclosures: I have no financial or non-financial interests.