

Kimberly Middleton MSPT, CLT

Jessica has been a Physical Therapist for too many years to think about, and is a CLT at Johns Hopkins Rehabilitation Network for the last 15 years. She feels very blessed that her career has taken this path, and though treating lymphedema and other sequelae resulting from cancer treatments is a very challenging pursuit, she finds it highly rewarding. Her daily goals are to assist patients improve their impairments and return them to the activities they enjoyed prior to cancer

Disclosures: I have no financial or non-financial interests.