

Kelly Sturm PT, DPT, OnCS, CLT-LANA

Kelly Sturm is a physical therapist who received her Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree from the Mayo Clinic. She became a Certified Lymphedema Therapist (CLT) through Klose Training and is certified by the Lymphology Association of North America (LANA). In 2019, Kelly became one of the first Board-Certified Oncology Clinical Specialists in the United States. She serves as an instructor for Physical Therapy Programs and is a guest speaker at various conferences, programs, and community groups. Kelly currently works in private practice and has clinical expertise in the rehabilitation treatment of oncology diagnoses, primary and secondary lymphedema, and pelvic health. Kelly is the owner of Cancer Rehab PT, educating, empowering, and bringing awareness on lymphedema, oncology rehabilitation, and physical therapy.

Disclosures: I have no financial or non-financial interests.