

Melissa Witbeck, PT, DPT, CLT

Melissa has nearly 15 years of experience as a Doctor of Physical Therapy after graduating from Ithaca College. Certified by the Academy of Lymphatic Studies, she specializes in lymphedema with a focus on lower extremities. Melissa has also developed a hospital-based outpatient program treating patients with pelvic floor disorders. Melissa is passionate about increasing awareness of lymphedema, and strongly believes that education is the foundation to helping patients and clinicians achieve optimal results. Melissa is currently a Clinical Education Manager at mediUSA, and enjoys consulting with clinicians to share her knowledge of lymphedema, compression principles, and challenging garment fittings.
