

Sandi Davis, PT, DPT, CLT-LANA, CLWT

Dr. Sandi Davis, PT owner of Davis Care Physical Therapy promotes a Multidisciplinary Approach to treat Lymphatic Disease. A graduate of NYU, and a certified Lymphedema therapist through the Lymphology Association of North America, with over twenty years of clinical experience. Recognized as a Master clinician and Adjunct Professor at NYU, Dr. Davis, PT provides Doctoral students with the opportunity to observe Physical Therapy services in a day-to-day practice and teaches courses in Lymphedema Examination and Interventions. She is also an Adjunct Professor for Integrative Multisystem courses focused on Lymphedema and Wound Care at Kean University. She has appeared as a guest speaker on NYU Radio and as a lecturer at the 5th Biennial Symposia focused on the role of Lymphedema with regards to wounds and occurrence, secondary to venous insufficiency. Most recently she published, along with a fabulous team of authors, the second iteration of S.T.R.I.D.E , a professional guide to compression for the upper extremity.

Disclosures: I am a consultant for Koya Medical.