

Kathleen M. Maloney
Principal
Maloney and Associates

Kathleen Maloney is the owner/principal of Maloney and Associates, a government relations-lobbying firm that provides legislative and regulatory representation and association management in Annapolis Maryland. She has handled policy priorities of the residential development and building industry in both the legislature and state regulatory agencies in Maryland for the past eleven years. She has been an advocate for business and the industry on a number of legislative task forces reviewing various issues of interest. In addition, Katie serves as the Co-Chair of the Maryland State Chamber of Commerce Environment Committee and is a member of the Maryland Government Relations Association. She also served as an adjunct professor in the Political Science Department at the United States Naval Academy.

Prior to the establishment of her own firm, Katie was the Executive Vice President/Legislative Affairs Director for the Maryland State Builders Association. She also worked for the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) in Washington, DC, overseeing state government relations nation-wide, and the Tidewater Association of REALTORS in Virginia Beach, Virginia as a lobbyist.

Katie was born in Bethesda and grew up in Middletown, Maryland. She received a BS in Political Science and an MPA in Public Administration from Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia. She currently resides in Annapolis.
