

Telegraft Editorial Board Junior Associate Editor – Role Description

Scope

The Telegraft is an e-newsletter provided as a benefit to ISCT membership and includes insightful discussions and up-to-date information on critical issues affecting the field of cell & gene therapy.

Position Description

As a Junior Associate Editor, you will work closely with the Editorial Board, comprised of the Senior Editors, Junior Associate Editors, as well as Contributing Editors. You will participate in monthly meetings with the Editorial Board to develop and review content for the newsletter, ensuring articles address the latest developments in the field, address topics of relevance to the sector, and include a breadth of perspectives and interests for ISCT members.

Applicants from all regions are encouraged to apply.
