FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Texas A&M University Presented with NACCU’s 2017 Best Marketing Campaign Award

Phoenix, AZ – April 24, 2017 – NACCU is proud to announce that Texas A&M University is the recipient of the 2017 NACCU Best Marketing Campaign Award. Russ Palay from award sponsor Apriva presented the award to Jacki Ashorn and Nancy Serna during the 24th Annual NACCU Conference in Orlando on April 5, 2017.

In April 2016, Texas A&M University learned that their financial aid disbursement partner would not be continuing under their agreement. At that point in time, Texas A&M University Aggie Card Office had a 97% direct deposit student enrollment rate for refunds.

In two months’ time, Texas A&M University Aggie Card Office would have to find and implement a new company to service refunds for its 65,000 student population (this number includes the Galveston campus, the Law School and the Health Science Center, since the main campus also serves these students as well).

They contracted with Heartland ECSI and working cooperatively, developed a multi-faceted marketing campaign that included web, social media, emails, phone calls, digital advertising, printed materials, swag, and contests.

Marketing the new servicer, as well as getting the large, diverse student population to sign up for direct deposit of refunds proved quite challenging. However, the potential cost associated with students receiving paper checks gave the staff the incentive to develop a successful marketing campaign to achieve its goal.

They had a very measurable campaign that ended up exceeding their initial goal, and as of January 2017 had hit over 85% penetration.
NACCU congratulates Texas A&M University for being the recipient of the 2017 NACCU Best Marketing Campaign Award.
