FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Scott Brannan Presented with Inaugural NACCU Outstanding Volunteer Award at New Event to Recognize Association Volunteers

Phoenix, AZ – April 30, 2019 – NACCU is proud to announce that Scott Brannan from Temple University was presented with the NACCU 2019 Outstanding Volunteer Award at the 26th Annual NACCU Conference in Hartford in April 2019. Richard Tamborelli, NACCU 2018-2019 NACCU Board President, presented the Award to Scott during the Volunteer Recognition Luncheon.

At this newly added event, NACCU celebrated the successes of all of volunteers who have donated time and work to advance the association and to provide programs and services for all NACCU members. The volunteer program has grown significantly over the last few years, and we are grateful for the dedication of our members.

During this luncheon, a new award was presented – the NACCU Outstanding Volunteer Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize an individual who has demonstrated exemplary volunteer service to the mission, goals and work of NACCU during the current or previous calendar year and encompasses the ideals of vision, diligence and commitment to service to the NACCU community.

A number of NACCU volunteers were nominated by peers for the award. Scott Brannan, the recipient of the award, was nominated by multiple individuals, which speaks to the commitment he has to the association.

One nomination noted, “This volunteer is the type of person this award is intended to honor. This volunteer loves NACCU and will volunteer his time and energy for the conference to be a success - and has done so for the past 15 years. I see this volunteer as Mr. NACCU - always with a smile on his face, welcoming people to NACCU and making friends. I cannot imagine NACCU without this person in it.”

Another nomination stated, “This volunteer has served in many capacities, but his biggest impact is always his latest impact. He works to create an inclusive environment where all members feel welcome and know they have a connection.”

Those who have been involved in NACCU for any amount of time know Scott as a “perpetual volunteer” and greeter at conferences, always working to enhance members’ experiences at events.

NACCU is proud to present the 2019 NACCU Outstanding Volunteer Award to Scott Brannan.
