

NAEMSE AND iSIMULATE ANNOUNCE 2018 HORIZON IN EMS AWARD WINNER

The National Association of EMS Educators and Diamond Corporate Partner iSimulate are pleased to announce that NAEMSE member and Assistant Training Officer Justin Arnone from East Baton Rouge Parish EMS is the winner of the 2018 Horizon in EMS Education Award. Mr. Arnone, as the recipient of the 2018 Horizon in EMS Education has demonstrated his commitment in providing high quality, hyper-realistic professional education for his students in Louisiana.

iSimulate and NAEMSE are providing full funding for hotel accommodations, airfare and a full 3-day registration to attend the annual symposium 2018 in Washington, DC, September 3 – 5, 2018.

The National Association of EMS Educators mission is to Inspire Educational Excellence IE². NAEMSE is dedicated to providing educational opportunities for the membership. Each year, NAEMSE provides at least fifteen (15) scholarships to the members to advance their professional development. For more information about the association and its benefits visit the association website www.naemse.org.

NAEMSE is proud to recognize iSimulate's mission of providing advanced medical simulation and technology products for the education of EMS professionals.