NAEMSE Reaffirms Commitment to Equity & Care

In honor of Black History Month, the National Association of EMS Educators reaffirms our commitment to ensure all patients who need EMS care receive appropriate, equitable and high-quality care. We recognize the work that has been done by pioneers in our field, such as Freedom House, and the work we still have to do. We are grateful to those EMS professionals and Educators who work to achieve the promise of those early pioneers every day. We will continue to do the hard work to ensure not just appropriate care, but also equitable access to EMS education for all in our society who are interested in pursuing our profession.
