

NASAO Hires New Marketing and Communications Manager

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Washington, DC (December 4, 2018) – National Association of State Aviation Officials (NASAO) hired Dominique Khan as the Marketing and Communications Manager. Khan will work in tandem with NASAO's Member Services team to further NASAO's reach and enhance the scope of initiatives offered.

Khan contributes to NASAO close to a decade of experience in marketing, event management and brand innovation. Her career has been enriched with a diversity of skills and knowledge which spans working with the Big Four to smaller scale, private companies.

"NASAO is undertaking a number of new initiatives where Ms. Khan's extensive knowledge and experience will be an asset. Ms. Khan's skill set spans all aspects of communications and marketing, and we're very pleased to have her onboard," said Interim President and CEO John Shea

Khan graduated from Agnes Scott College with a Bachelor of Arts degree and is now concluding her Master of Professional Studies degree at Georgetown University.

Dominique Khan made the following statement regarding her role:

"I've joined at a very exciting time for the Association, with the launch of the online training program for State Aviation Officials and the upcoming 2019 legislative conference in Washington, D.C. I am honored to join the NASAO team and look forward to furthering the work that the Association stands for."

NASAO is dedicated to representing the interests of the states and the public before policymakers at the federal level. NASAO members organize, promote, and fund a wide variety of aviation programs across the nation.
