This Journal is published by the Society of Financial Service Professionals, a professional organization whose members are dedicated to the highest standards of competence and service in the financial services industry. The Society’s purpose is to serve the public interest by providing continuing education, ethical guidance, and public recognition for its members.

It is the policy of this publication to both reflect and augment the professionalism of the members of the Society. Editorial and advertising materials are screened by responsible bodies to assure that they contribute to the continuing education of the members, to the advancement of professionalism in the financial services industry, and to the ultimate benefit of the public through sound and well-informed counsel.

This publication is designed to provide accurate and authoritative information in regard to the subject matter covered. It is provided with the understanding that the publisher is not engaged in rendering legal, accounting, or other professional advice or service. If such advice is required, the services of a competent professional should be sought.

Reproduction or use in whole or of any part of the contents without permission of the Society of Financial Service Professionals is prohibited.
