

AANP Partner Spotlight: EMF Harmony - May 2020

EMF Harmony is a leading supplier of EMF protection products to support the body against the detrimental health effects of exposure to electromagnetic radiation, something we are all faced with every day. The company's products are based on a bio-energetic approach to health developed in Europe and feature a proprietary dual-level technology that 1) harmonizes the damaging energetic frequencies of EMF radiation and 2) supports the body's ability to handle the stress caused by EMF exposure. The technology has been used in a variety of healthcare applications for over 20 years, and its effectiveness has been documented in numerous studies.

EMF Harmony was founded in 2019 by Marty Grosjean, an entrepreneur who has been active in the holistic healthcare field for over 20 years. Prior to founding EMF Harmony, Marty founded and ran a successful brand of natural and holistic pet care products which are sold nationally in the United States. Marty began working with the bio-energetic technology that powers the EMF Harmony products over 10 years ago and became a firm believer in its power to significantly impact the health of the human body.

EMF Harmony products are made in its partner's facility in Europe and are crafted in a small workshop in the Alps, not a giant factory. Bio-energetic technology is much more common in Europe, especially in the world of alternative / complementary healthcare. The company's partner there has been making bio-energetic products in a variety of healthcare applications – not just EMF protection – for over 20 years. This robust experience in the relationship of quantum energy information and human health is what sets apart the effectiveness of EMF Harmony products from others in the field.

Please visit the EMF Harmony website for information about how its technology works, to view research studies demonstrating its effectiveness, and to review its product line. The company also offers a reseller wholesale program, which includes a 50% trial offer for qualified holistic healthcare practitioners (more information is available on the website).
