

Lean for Human Resource Professionals Applying the Fundamentals

Lean and Process Improvement for the HR Professional

Lean for Human Resource Professionals is a one-day course focusing on the fundamental Lean principles used by successful organizations across multiple industries. You will be led through an interactive simulation of a business process that allows for hands-on practice with Lean tools and methodology.

Upon successful completion of this class, you will have the knowledge to apply Lean techniques in your own organization, across a variety of HR processes and operations, giving you the increased capacity to do more without adding additional headcount.

About Lean for Human Resource Professionals

Lean for Human Resources is a fundamental change in how you, and the people in your organization, think and approach problems. Lean is a common set of beliefs and principles that focus on what is of value in every facet of your HR Department.

When rigorously applied, Lean for Human Resources can have positive impacts on productivity, cost, quality and delivery of services.
