RANDY REEVES, ARM, ARM-P, AAI

Sr. Account Executive

Senior Account Executive for over 14 years providing Risk Management and Commercial Insurance services for High-Tech industries, Manufacturing, Construction, Public Entity, and Social Services.

Randy's broad background includes over 32 years of experience in sales, operations, and manufacturing, for both domestic and international companies. Ranging from Westinghouse Electric as a manufacturing engineer to President of Interroll Corporation. He has developed the understanding and skills necessary for business development, strategic formulation, Risk Management programming, and financial analysis to maximize profitability and lower total costs.

Randy's experience is augmented through hands-on involvement by providing cyber education classes, and city, county, civic, professional, and volunteer involvement. He understands risk mitigation through policy, process improvement, and employee involvement. Specific training through NC PRIMA, NC Tides, ARM degree, and client development has allowed Mr. Reeves to become a trusted advisor to his customers.
