PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

To participate as an Ambassador you must:

- Be able to meet with your mentor at least three times during the NPWH Student Ambassador Program (November through December 2023). Once the NPWH Student Ambassador Program concludes on December 31, 2023, the mentor and mentee may opt to continue the mentor / mentee relationship on their own should both parties wish to do so.
- Be willing to meet via phone, in-person or via video platform. To facilitate ease in meetings, program coordinators will work to match mentors / mentees based on geographic proximity as well as interests.
- Attend the annual the 26th Annual NPWH Women's Healthcare Conference, October 30-Nov 1, 2023 in San Diego, California. You will be granted complimentary conference registration.
- Be able to purchase airfare and sleeping accommodations (hotel) to attend the meeting. NPWH will award an $800 grant per student to go toward these expenses.
- During your time at the NPWH Conference you will have the opportunity to connect with and learn from expert nurse practitioners in health; gain knowledge of current clinical trends, evidence-based research and national guidelines to provide care to women of all ages; and network with members of the NPWH Board of Directors and conference attendees.
- You will be invited to the VIP Reception at the annual conference and attendance is encouraged. It’s a great networking opportunity to connect with WHNPs and those in the women’s healthcare field.
- Attend an initial conference call, the entire conference, complimentary symposia, an orientation session, and a debrief session; Volunteer your time and be present for all conference sessions you are assigned to; serve as a session assistant/runner; welcome and assist conference attendees; and visit the exhibitors to learn more about their products.
- Post highlights of the conference to social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter and participate in a group photo.
- Sign an Ambassador Guidelines acknowledgement form.
- Be willing to fulfill the program monitoring requirements outlined below.

PROGRAM MONITORING REQUIREMENTS

- Program coordinators will conduct periodic check-ins with the mentor and the mentee throughout the program.

- After the program has concluded, a program exit interview survey will be given to help the Program Coordinators understand the impact of the program, and identify positive feedback and opportunities for improvement.
