Website Terms & Conditions

In principle, information provided on this website is available for the use of all its visitors. The only restrictions are

- some 'Members only' areas which are only accessible to registered IPrA members
- the content of blogs and forums set up for specific purposes for specific sub-communities of IPrA members, possibly by individual members on their own initiative.

Though care has been taken to ensure technical and factual accuracy, some errors may occur, and no guarantee is given of the completeness of information on these pages. Be aware that IPrA may alter information from time to time.

Though care has been taken to ensure that links are only provided to bona fide external websites, no warranty can be given that contents or hypertext links are always virus free or uncontaminated. Users are expected to make their own virus checks and to exercise their own precautions in this respect.

Services and payment options

IPrA provides two types of paid services:
