PVDA Schooling Shows are Opening Earlier
In order to allow more time for competitors to compile a completed schooling show entry for schooling shows, all of the remaining schooling shows for the 2014 show season will be opening to accept entries two weeks earlier. Please update your calendar and prepare your show entries early. A complete schooling show entry includes the completed entry form, payment of entry fees, a signed copy of the PVDA Release Form, a copy of the PVDA Membership card, and a copy of the horse’s negative coggins test (taken within 1 year of the show date). Detailed schooling show entry instructions are available on the PVDA Website. (www.pvda.org) by selecting “Schooling Show Entry Instructions” from the “Shows” menu.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Traci Melvin and Annabel Winters-McCabe, who both received their PVDA Rider Achievement Awards for Outstanding Schooling Show Scores at First Level! The Rider Achievement Awards help you chart your progress. Recipients receive a special pin and certificate for each level at PVDA Schooling or any Recognized shows. All you need is 4 qualifying scores from 2 or more qualifying shows, from 3 or more judges. You can do it in just 3 shows! Full information and application form is on the website!

PVDA’s Chairwoman and Education Chair, Jaclyn Sicoli, had a busy week leading up to our fall symposium. On September 1st, Jaclyn opened for training and boarding at Woodvale Farms in Frederick, MD. Jaclyn’s business, Peace of Mind Dressage, includes adult amateurs, junior riders, horses in training, and two fancy sale horses. POM now offers boarding at two levels on a 150 acre campus only 1 hour from DC and Baltimore. Jaclyn is thrilled to be able to manage all of her training at one facility. Her staff live on campus as well and the whole team is already planning two events which are open to the public. On October 4th-5th Jaclyn hosts Nicholas Fyffe for a dressage clinic. On October 26th their Open House welcomes Olympic rider and founder of Equilates, Betsy Steiner.

Ride For Life Donations Presented to Johns Hopkins

Year End Awards

PVDA’s Annual Dinner and Awards Banquet will be held on Saturday, January 17, 2015 at the Turf Valley Resort and Conference Center again this year. The food and services we received last year were outstanding so we are going back again this year! Please join us for a fun-filled evening of great food, silent auction, great speakers and to celebrate our member’s accomplishments in the 2014 show season. The cost is $45 per person and you can sign up at the website www.pvda.org. Riders, remember to double check your scores and volunteer hours at the end of the year so you don’t get left out!
St. Mary’s

Article and photos by Gina Guffey

The members of the St. Mary’s Chapter have had a busy summer. Our members who are actively showing have mainly been attending the Begin Again Farm Show series in Leonardtown, MD, since there are no PVDA Schooling Shows in St. Mary’s or Charles Counties this year. Our members have shown in levels from Intro through First level and Western at BAF, with several being overall Champion or Reserve Champion in their respective levels. Three of our members—Annmari Ingersoll, Karen Siebert and Jack Mulqueen—showed at the Ride for Life in June. Jack had the most donations for a Junior rider and Karen was also recognized as bringing in a significant amount of donations in her first Licensed show. She also received two qualifying scores at Training level with her awesome Quarter Horse, Tuff Kalidospark.

On August 15th, co-chair Alice Allen hosted the chapter at her home for a “Teach Your Horse to Self-Load” evening with member Darryl Cherry. Darryl showed us how she proceeds with groundwork to teach the horse to move forward when she wants and back at her command, then when the horse is relaxed proceeds to work them gradually into the trailer. It is all about teaching them to go willingly into the trailer without any bribes. They get on the trailer because you teach them too. Alice’s retired horse Shane was our willing participant. He had not been trailered for six years, and never self-loaded. Within a short period of time, Darryl had him walking on the trailer by himself and standing quietly until she asked him to back off.

September 6th saw us back again at Begin Again Farm for an Equine Massage Lecture and Demonstration with Courtney Molino from Hands on Horses. Courtney gave us a lot of information and handouts in her lecture about Equine Bodywork. Courtney emphasized that Bodywork is NOT a replacement for veterinary care; there is no diagnosis of injuries or prescribed treatments by equine massage therapists. Courtney offers Myofascial Release and Sports Massage in her practice. She focused on Sports Massage with us; teaching us how to manipulate the soft tissue through stroking, rubbing, kneading or tapping to free restrictions, helping to increase circulation and range of motion. We also discussed the common causes of injuries in horses. Some of these are: repetitive stress; poor saddle fit; incorrect training or shoeing; lack of proper warm-up/cool-down; conformation issues; poor footing; nervous/tense horse; etc. After the lecture we practiced the massage techniques we learned on three of the horses at BAF--Stanley, Donovan and Harvey. They were willing participants and thoroughly enjoyed the attention. We are very glad that Courtney made the trip down to help us--thanks Courtney!!

In October we are having a clinic with Aviva Nebesky at Debbie and Steve Purvins’ Lawton Farm in Bushwood, MD. Contact Chapter co-chair Melana Krivitsky for information. The Chapter is planning to send teams to the Chapter Challenge this year. We are looking forward to seeing everyone at the Chapter Challenge!
On September 6th-7th PVDA welcomed international dressage trainer, Nicholas Fyffe, for a 2 day symposium. The event was held in New Market at Esther Noiles’, Woods Lane Farm. The title of the symposium, "A System that Simplifies” describes Nicholas' philosophy which was successful at bringing the best out of each horse and rider time after time throughout the event.

Our riders spanned the training scale and included a number of different ages and breeds including one hanoverian stallion, one pony, and a quarter horse. Eight riders traveling from Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Maryland participated, each rider, training both Saturday and Sunday with Nicholas. Our riders and horses: Karen McIntyre and Ridgetop Windy City, Ilene Boorman and Rekhamp’s Opal, Micah Deligdish and Ripley, Jimmie Schramm and Bellamy, Hailey Leishear and Don Perignon, Mary Lou Sullivan and Shiraz, Marne Martin Tucker and Royal Couer, Lauren Kimmel and Romancero.

Auditors also traveled from afar to learn from Nicholas and were treated to catered meals as well as comfortable amenities at Woods Lane. On Saturday Nicholas answered questions from the audience about his introduction to horses at age three with his first pony and how he transitioned from eventing to dressage, after too many cross country falls. Nicholas also shared his warm up strategy at competitions and how he crafts his training program prior to each show, to prepare the horse for the particular test he is riding. Many times throughout the symposium, Nicholas described how his training must always prepare the horses to perform, helping them to give the right answers under pressure by practicing necessary transitions and movements at home.

Nicholas encouraged each horse and rider to begin their training sessions with one goal: to develop reach to the bit and stretch over the horse’s topline. The strategy of rewarding the horse for stretching and discouraging the horse for hollowing, by relax or giving pressure on the rein, was simple. Some horse’s required additional corrections to maintain a forward march or keep their attention on their rider. Nicholas explained, that for him, 'developing this stretch and suppleness is paramount...if it takes 5 minutes or the whole ride, I make sure to accomplish it’.

Nicholas placed responsibility on the riders to stay in balance and sitting with the horse. Two corrections related to rider position were helpful and repeated throughout the weekend. The first, was confusing for some riders. Nicholas explained that in his opinion, riders over-emphasize placing weight in their inside seat bone or stirrup. In order to counteract this problem, Nicholas recommended that riders check themselves by making sure they can look at the outside of the horse’s neck at anytime. The second correction to rider position related to body alignment. Often riders began a lesson by looking and turning far to the inside of a circle or corner. Nicholas advised that we ‘need to sit in alignment with where the horse is traveling’ and not 10 or 30 steps ahead of where we currently are. Both of these adjustments helped riders to better balance the horse on the outside rein and inside leg.

PVDA was proud to host Nicholas Fyffe and welcome our community to enjoy a lovely facility. We all have many people to thank for making this event possible. Large scale learning opportunities such as these are planned at least 1 year in advance. Arranging clinicians, locations, booking travel, accepting riders, scheduling, and finally hosting, takes months of volunteer time. PVDA’s mission to promote dressage education makes these activities high on our priority list and well worth it! Thank you to our clinician, host, riders, and volunteers for participating.

Lesson Lottery Winners Say Thanks

Jaclyn Sink

I was very lucky to have my name drawn to have a lesson with Lauren Spriester through PVDA’s Lesson Lottery. I was excited to ride with Lauren since I knew she worked with many juniors and young riders, and I am in the last year of my Young Rider eligibility. It is sometimes intimidating taking a lesson or clinic with a FEI instructor that you have never ridden with before, since they may be very critical or come off sounding just plain mean. This was NOT the case with Lauren. As soon as we pulled up the drive to her gorgeous facility in Marshall, VA (a serious trek from Howard County) we were kindly greeted. When I say “we” I mean myself, my two horses and my chauffeur, my groom and audience (aka my mom). Also, when I say “gorgeous” facility I mean immaculate, pristine, b-e-a-utiful farm; don’t even get me started about the indoor riding arena.

So now that I have clued you into my surroundings let’s discuss my lesson. I mean, that was the point right? The horse that I rode for my “lesson lottery” lesson was my 8 year old, Trakehner, chestnut, “red head” gelding named Pre. I discussed with Lauren that we have shown First Level and are schooling Second. Immediately at the start of my warm-up Lauren knew my horse as much as I did, and she also knew his downfalls. She knew I had to outsmart my little red head to get what I want, and that’s exactly what we did.

At the start of my lesson he may not have looked like the ‘floaty’ type of warmblood you see getting 70s at shows, but by the end of my lesson he felt (and looked) like the fancy moving warmblood you see on the cover of Dressage Today. I had to do double takes in the mirrors during my lesson because it didn’t look like my horse! Sadly, “videographer” is not in my mother’s job description, so I am left with the mental image of my lesson.

Since my lesson I have been working more and more to achieve the “collection” and “lightness” that I felt in my lesson. Lauren really helped bring out my horse’s inner “dressage diva” and give me ambition to train him up the levels. I cannot say that about every FEI instructor with whom I have ridden. Lauren made my lesson very fun and light. In addition to her riding/training ability she has a great sense of humor that I really enjoyed during my lesson. I would like to give a THANK YOU to PVDA and Lauren for their time and support.

My lesson on my pony Spirit is a fun story for another day....

Camilla Cornwell

I wanted to thank PVDA for the opportunity to participate in the lesson lottery, and Erin Sweeney for donating the lesson. I had a wonderful lesson, with several light bulb moments that have truly improved my training and position since.
Dressage in Action--
a Different Perspective

By Tina Snyder, Photos by Sarah Yaroslaski

Rescue horses, as do all horses, thrive on a structured training program. Here at Safe Haven we begin with simple groundwork using natural horsemanship techniques and work toward a solid foundation in trust and good manners.

From there we begin under saddle work using the dressage training scale as the core of our system. Basics like relaxation, forwardness, rhythm, and suppleness lets the horses know we are asking for good, doable things, broken down into small goals. We build confidence and happiness through patience and often a sense of humor is essential.

It’s my belief that dressage should never revolve solely around competition. Sadly it does too often. The essence of dressage is about harmony of horse and rider, a wonderful clear communication that creates a dance between the two, bringing out the best in horse and human.

Keeping this ideal in mind every day reminds us that this is about the development and happiness of the horse rather than our own agenda. As riders we cannot succeed with anything less.

Over and over I’ve seen this type of training take these once discarded animals who weren’t thought to be worth the price of a bale of hay mold them into the fabulous treasures they were meant to be. Our recent experience at the Jr/Yr regional team championships was strong affirmation of their value as partners & the role of dressage in rehabilitating them. We congratulate them and their human partners. It’s an honor for any trainer to do as well as we did there. Bringing home the blue in each of the divisions we competed in as well as the prestigious overall high point winning team makes me only humble.

I may be the voice, my riders - the translators, but it’s the horses who give the most. Each takes the partnership with their rider with serious reverence and total trust. Even on the bad days the question must always be “How can I communicate better?” “What am I missing in the language?” Creating trust is important. Maintaining it vitally essential.

As another year at the team championships is behind us, let me take this opportunity to let you know that horses of amazing temperament, movement and ability for all disciplines can be found in rescues and kill pens. Rescues are often full to capacity while working with limited funding and staff. With each horse adopted, two lives are saved. Not only the horse who hit the jackpot and got a home, but the one who now will take that spot in the rescue and get a chance at a better life. Consider a Rescue horse for your next dressage partner.

The PVDA updated our bylaws in 2013. As part of this update, board terms are now two years, however, the board cannot rotate by more than half at each election. For this first year after our new bylaws were implemented, half of the board was chosen for a two-year term and half one-year term. This is to ensure that going forward, only half of the board will be running for a new term each year. The board members who are continuing to serve through November 2015 include: Jaclyn Sicoli, Claire Lacey, Carolyn DelGrosso, Valerie Mallder, Rebeakh Lusk, Moea Goron-Liccione. All other current board members are running again for the board, as provided below.

Christina Dale joined the PVDA Board in 2012 and served on the Volunteer, Marketing, and Newsletter committees. She has helped PVDA develop an online media presence by creating and/or maintaining the PVDA and PVDA Ride for Life Facebook and Twitter pages. She also created a mailing list of volunteers that breaks down specific jobs and events volunteers sign up for. Christina started as a hunter rider and transitioned to eventing during her Pony Club days which led her to dressage. While at the University of Maryland she was a teacher/director for the UMD Equestrian Club and developed a standardized method of evaluating horse, rider, trainer, and teacher skill level. Christina is an Equine Sports Massage Therapist (ESMT) and professional equine photographer. She lives in southern Maryland with four horses, two miniature donkeys, two dogs, and a barn cat.

Mimi Mack has been a member of PVDA since 2004 and has been an active volunteer during that time, primarily as a Ring Steward and as Volunteer Coordinator for the Ride For Life Benefit. Mimi moved to MD from England in 1999. During her time there she qualified as a British Horse Society Assistant Instructor and competed in stadium jumping. She is currently competing at First Level on her mare, Summer Sinclair. Her past working experience included marketing, PR, advertising and fundraising. Mimi is serving her first year on the PVDA Board and is on the Sponsorship/Fundraising committee.

Mary Sue McCarthy is the current PVDA president and will be serving her second year in this role. She also chaired the volunteer committee. She has been a PVDA board member for three years. Mary Sue is an addictions therapist helping people overcome drug and alcohol addiction.

Debra Nissen is the owner and coach at New World Stables in Frederick, Maryland. She regularly hosts horsemanship seminars through the Maryland Equine Education Center, based at her facility. Debra has spent much of the last 15 years overseas. In addition to the USA, she has ridden, taught, and competed in India, Indonesia, Taiwan, and Hong Kong. She plans to debut her rescued Thoroughbred mare Moon Lily in next year’s show season. Debra is happy to be concentrating her energies here in Maryland, and bring her love of learning and the sport to PVDA.

Linda Speer has been an active PVDA member since 1980, currently serving her 28th term on the PVDA Board chairing the Junior/Young Rider committee, the Awards committee and Special Events. She has organized many activities including the very successful USDF Region I

Shore Dressage Show

By Deri Jeffers

Our Shore Chapter had our second schooling show of the season on Saturday, September 20th and what a gorgeous day it was! With a pleasant 72 degree day and no wind, riders had the choice of three outdoor warm up arenas before competing in the lovely, mirrored indoor! Show manager, Deri Jeffers, was extremely grateful for the incredible volunteers, without whom the show could not have taken place. Our experienced chief scorer was Cynthia Walton, and Valerie Pedersen was our excellent scribe whom the judge really appreciated. As a judge myself, I can tell you having a trained scribe can make all the difference in the world! Stacy Speth, our experienced paddock master did an excellent job getting the right rider in the arena on time! With some new horse/rider combinations at this show I know they appreciated the extra guidance Stacy gave them. Our judge Janice Mumford, from Suffolk, Virginia, was very helpful to the riders as she took the time to give verbal comments after each ride when time allowed. Our group classes (Hunter Dressage, Pleasure Dressage, and Dressage Seat Equitation) are growing and allowing those new-to-dressage to be judged in a group, which they find relaxing for their horses. Needless to say it was a fun, relaxing day of dressage and our new riders can’t wait for our fall Halloween show on October 25th! Results are below!

Junior/Young Rider Team Championships as well as numerous clinics. Linda also managed several licensed competitions, the PVDA Chapter Challenge Competition and organizes the PVDA booth at the annual Horse Expo at the Timonium Fairgrounds every January.

Betty Thorpe has served on the PVDA board since 1994 and has been Volunteer Coordinator, Editor of the PVDA newsletter, Vice President, and President for four years. She is currently the secretary. She continues to contribute articles to the newsletter and has represented PVDA at several USDF annual meetings around the country. She is a member of the Licensed Show Committee, coordinates the insurance for our activities, and houses the Archives. Each position has been interesting!

Deanna Williford like many 7 year old girls was bitten by the “horse crazy bug” and (finally!) got her first horse at 16, showing Western and English for a few years before a short hiatus while she started her career at Maryland School for the Deaf. In 1980, Deanna began the current chapter of horse ownership which encompassed showing hunter jumpers, having her own farm and horse business for 12 years, retraining OTTBs, and coming into dressage through the back door of eventing with MCTA. Currently, she owns two Thoroughbreds, Lincoln and Ocean, and has enjoyed being a PVDA member for the last 9 years. Because so many have volunteered so that she could have fun showing and eventing, Deanna feels her volunteering at PVDA shows has been a way to “give back” to the Maryland horse industry. She would consider it an honor to serve on the PVDA Board.

SEPTEMBER PVDA BOARD MEETING

Date: September 8, 2014; Meeting #542
Location: Linda Speer’s Farm in Clarksville, Md.

ATTENDANCE

Members Absent: Deanna Williford, Moea Goron-Liccione

New Business: Linda Speer asked if we wanted to have a booth at the Horse Expo again next January. We agreed to do that so she will send in the paperwork.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Awards: Valerie said that riders can check their eligibility for year-end awards on the web site: scores.pvda.org.
Education: The Fall Symposium Sept. 6-7 with Nicholas Fyffe was well received. The same 8 riders rode both days, they stayed on schedule, the food was good, the volunteers were cheerful, the venue was beautiful. (Woods Lane Farm). The next PVDA clinic will be the New Test clinic with Janet Foy March 21, 22, 2015 at Wyndham Oaks, Boyds, MD.
Finance: Carolyn reported that the profit from Loch Moy 1 and 2 was about $8,000 which is approximately what we made in one day last year. But there were many competitors who benefited from the two shows and the stabling was busier although we do not make much money on stabling at this venue. We are currently healthier financially than last year at this time by $21,000.

Fundraising/Marketing/Sponsorships: Rebekah was happy to report a new Platinum Sponsor for the year (we now have four), Dressage Training Online, who filmed the Nicholas Fyffe Clinic. As part of the agreement, they will provide mini clips of the rides for our website. Claire is willing to set up an online merchandise store on the website and mail out the sales.

Governance: We have 12 board members now so there are three openings, and this election will be the first where half the board will be up for election. We drew names out of the hat to decide which 6 will have one term, and therefore run in 2014, and which will have a 2 year term so will be up for election in 2015. The one year terms are Mary Sue McCarthy, Linda Speer, Deanna Williford, Mimi Mack, Betty Thorpe, and Christine Dale. The two year terms are Valerie Mallder, Moea Goron-Liccione, Jaclyn Sicoli, Claire Lacey, Carolyn Del Grosso, and Rebekah Lusk. In addition several members have ideas of additional names for the ballot. If there are enough names for an election, it will be set up online.

Membership: Total membership is 949. Adult-581; Business-6; Family Primary-75; Family Supporting-84; Junior-83; Life-18; Patron-4; Senior-69; Young Adult-29.

Newsletter: The Membership Directory was compiled by Valerie, published and sent out. Since the Service Directory is included, it would be good to mention from time to time in the newsletter that this is a free benefit of membership, but members must submit their information to be included.
